ORDER 50 PCT. RAIL SERVICE CUT MAY 15

Robbed of Payroll—Edmund Hanauer (left) and Isadore Sholls, employees of the Alles and Fisher Cigar Co., South End, were robbed of an $8757 payroll today by gunmen as they returned to the Northampton st. plant from a bank. The robbery held up the weekly payoff to girl employees (at right), but most of them took it cheerfully.

Railroads Cut 50 P.C. May 15

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation today ordered a 50 per cent reduction in passenger service by coal burning locomotives, effective May 15, to conserve dwindling coal supplies. (Most commuter trains use coal as fuel.) From May 10 to May 15 passenger service will be reduced 25 per cent from the mileage operated on April 1.

3 Rail Unions Threaten Strike For 2nd Boost

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Three unions of railroad operating workers today notified management of demands for wage increases of $1.20 a day additional to the boost of $1.28 ordered by an arbitration board last month.

Unless a satisfactory settlement can be reached, the unions said, a strike vote will be taken among the unions' rank and file and a strike will "actually occur."

Announcement of the new demands was made in a joint statement by Carl J. Goff, Cleveland, assistant president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; Harry W. Fraser, Cedar Rapids, Ia., president of the Order of Railway Conductors, and Thomas C. Cashen, Buffalo, N. Y., president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The action followed by 24 hours the walkout of representatives of two others of the "Big Five" operating brotherhoods from a conference with carrier representatives aimed at forestalling a strike of trainmen and engineers called for May 18.

Two of Mussolini Ghoul's Arrested

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The Paris Radio said two members of a gang that took the body of Benito Mussolini from its unmarked grave in San Vittore Cemetery in Milan have been arrested.

Police said they hoped to take the entire gang into custody soon, the radio added, saying one of the captured men had confessed.

British Troops Hold Arab Rioters at Bay

JERUSALEM, May 3 (INS)—Arab protests in the Holy Land reached a critical phase tonight with an estimated 3000 howling demonstrators screaming denunciations of Britain and America as armed British troops held them at bay near the Damascus gate.

(Later, a Reuters dispatch to London said police and troop reinforcements entered the old city by Herod's gate and the new gate and dispersed the mob. Reuters said the "situation now is officially reported all quiet.")

(The London Evening News reported the demonstrators topped the 15,000 mark during the day. Five thousand Arab worshippers joined 10,000 other demonstrators in a march toward the Damascus gate, carrying pictures of the Grand Mufti and shouting "down with Attlee and Truman.")

The turbulent mob stoned the platoon of grim-faced soldiers armed with tommy guns. Warning shots were fired into the air but even this failed to soften the outcry.

Six armored cars and more than 100 policemen were rushed to the scene to reinforce the comparative handful of regular army men.

The demonstration started with more than 1000 Arabs, and in a short time tripled in size.

Most effective in the Holy Land, the "symbolic protest" reverberated also in Saudi Arabia, Transjordan, Iraq, Lebanon, Syria, Egypt and Yemen.

Railroads were further directed to cancel reservations where necessary and "to take such other action as may be necessary to carry out the terms and purposes of this order."

ODT last night had clamped a general embargo on freight shipments with certain exceptions.

ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson told a reporter today "any railroad which finds it necessary has my permission to put these reductions into effect before May 10 and to go deeper."

The drastic curtailment of railroad service came as President Truman voiced alarm over the situation created by the prolonged soft coal strike. Approximately three-quarters of the nation's passenger mileage relies on coal.

The presidential alarm was echoed in high administration quarters where predictions were made the whole industrial economy will be seriously crippled within 20 days if the mines continue idle.

The strike entered its 33d day today. Nevertheless, settlement negotiations still gave no hint of any early break. On the contrary, Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the mine owners, reported the past four days had been completely wasted.

Mr. Truman described the picture as very serious at his news conference yesterday, but he indicated the government is not yet ready to take any new steps in the dispute.

In time however, the shutdown of the soft coal mines by 400,000 miners might be considered a strike against the government. Should matters reach that stage, he added, the government will act accordingly.

Meanwhile, several government agencies were surveying the extent of the industrial slowdown

N. E. Commuters Hardest Hit by Curb

Spokesmen for the major New England railroads said today commuter service on the three roads would be hardest hit by the ODT order limiting freight and passenger service by coal-burning locomotives.

They said, however, they would have to study the order before they could determine to what extent their lines would be affected.

The spokesmen, representing the Boston & Maine, Boston & Albany and New Haven railroads, said they had not received the order yet.

Earlier, a check of New England reserves showed this section of the country has sufficient coal on hand to last another month or more.

Mayor Curley today told the joint legislative committee on taxation and on ways and means that the Richard H. Long bill to impose 50 per cent personal income taxes and 25 per cent corporation excise on net incomes of more than $20,000 would solve the State's problem of financing its expenditures.

2 Falmouth Men Held as Firebugs

BARNSTABLE, April 3—Two

Falmouth brothers-in-law were held for the grand jury today after appearance in Barnstable District Court on the charge of wantonly setting one of the big fires that raged through Cape Cod woods two weeks ago. Bail was set at $500 each.

The men, Ruby Antone, 27, and Theodore Andrade, 34, both of Gifford st., pleaded not guilty of setting fire to standing wood or wilfully burning trees on the Whitney estate in Sandwich. They were found not guilty on the second charge.

State Police Lt. Harold J. Pelouin, who headed the investigation, introduced Patrolman Morris Hinkley of Barnstable as his chief witness.

Curley was one of scores of mayors, selectmen and taxpayers protesting the record state budget of $126,000,000 which proposes a state tax of $10,000,000 upon cities and towns.

"If the Long bill becomes law, it will give the State 300 millions a year in added revenue," Curley said. "The State could retain one-half to balance the budget and return the other half to cities and towns to lower tax rates and take the burden off real estate."

Real estate, the mayor added, is now carrying 74 per cent of the tax burden and asserted that it could not stand an increased state tax this year. He said the Long tax proposals would "take a little from the federal government, but I think the federal government would allow it, for a short time at least."

Curley declared he also favored measures to allow cities and towns the legal right to originate revenue-producing taxes.

"If Boston gets that right, I would place a 1 or 2 per cent tax in the process."

2d Alcatraz Guard Slain, Siege Still On

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3 (AP)—A second guard was slain at Alcatraz as rioting continued into the second day. Guard William A. Miller died in a hospital as a new attack was launched to dislodge six of the nation's toughest convicts from their stronghold in a prison cell block.

Guard Harold P. Stites was killed by machine gun bullets at the outset of the rioting yesterday afternoon when convicts seized an arsenal.

About 11:15 a. m. today shafts of white smoke streamed into the sky, followed by the sound of explosions, as the new attack was begun.

At 11:30 a. m. a guard at the prison reported by telephone to the Associated Press that he didn't have time to talk but "we're sure going after them right now."

The Marine Corps said leathernecks were chopping a hole in the roof of one of the prison cellblocks to drop hand grenades on the convicts.

Marine Corps headquarters reported 23 more battle-armed marines went to the beleaguered island this morning, bringing the force of leathernecks there to 83.

The six convicts during the night held 10 prison officers as hostages for about seven hours, shooting some, and injuring all but one. The hostages were rescued in a raging gun battle.

In addition to the death of Stites and Miller, 13 other prison officers were injured.

This morning a guard said 72-year-old Warden James A. Johnston, who had been on the job all night, was personally directing efforts to end the uprising.

"Everybody's pretty busy," the guard said. "And Warden Johnston is right in there. He certainly has got what it takes."

"There are plenty of explosions occurring right now."

Police from near-by Oakland headed toward the island stronghold with a load of grenades and shells for a bazooka-type gun as the prison guards kept the corner full of desperadoes under range of their weapons.

What effect bazooka shells would have on the cell block brought no immediate comment from qualified quarters. The fortress-like prison is constructed heavily of reinforced concrete, stone and steel.

The break began with the overpowering of a guard and the capture of guns and ammunition from the prison arsenal yesterday about 3 p. m. (PST). The spectacular fight raged until shortly before dawn, when a prison officer said:

"They're holed up and nobody's doing any shooting now. We still don't know how many are in there."

Bernard Paul Coy, 46, serving 25 years for armed robbery in Louisville, Ky., and sent to the island bastille, was reported to have overpowered the guard, Bert A. Burch, who was armed.

Coy had a prison job cleaning gun galleries. He reportedly threw a master switch to open all cells

Scores See Riot

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3 (INS)—Hundreds of spectators still lined the shores of San Francisco bay early today to watch the prison riot battle on Alcatraz island.

From the shores could be seen the red glow of smoke bombs set off by guards and military reinforcements.

Hundreds of motorists jammed roads paralleling the bay, while scores of others watched from roof-top vantage points.

in the block and passed out guns to 16 other prisoners.

Immediately the alarm was sounded, but guards who rushed to Burch's aid were captured and locked up as hostages. The prisoners obtained keys to all doors in the block except the building exit, reported a marine public relations officer who went to the "Rock."

Another Chilly Night Ahead

Although temperatures dropped, to below freezing in several sections of Massachusetts today, the weather bureau reported "very little" damage to apple and other fruit crops. The thermometer dipped to 29.2 at the Concord weather station, and registered 27.4 at the Bedford airport before dawn, but started rising with sunup.

In Portland, Me., the mercury hit 27, a new low for May, and even lower readings were reported from northern Maine. At Caribou it was 23 and at Greenville 22.

The weather bureau forecast another chilly night, with temperatures near 37 in downtown Boston and near freezing in the interior suburbs.

SIGNS VET PRIORITY BILL

WASHINGTON, May 3 (INS)—President Truman today signed a bill giving veterans priority on purchase of surplus war property except that transferred to government agencies.

superintendent, and Ladore Sholls, 70, of Brighton, arrived back from the bank to be greeted by two gunmen.

No. 1, a freckle-faced red-head, whipped a nickel-plated revolver from beneath his coat and ordered, "Get back in that car and don't make a move."

No. 2, dark-complexioned and wearing horn-rimmed glasses, stepped to the opposite side of the machine, levelling a blue steel revolver and ordering Hanauer to pass a canvas bag containing the payroll to the red-head.

It all was over within seconds. The two gunmen ran a few feet to Shawmut ave. where their pal sat at the wheel of another machine. They sped away towards Columbus ave. and a short time later the bandit car was found at C. Fellows and Randall sts., Roxbury, where they apparently continued their flight in another auto.

The big haul included $6850 in $10 bills and the rest in smaller denominations.

No. 1 gunman was further described as 5 feet 7 inches tall, about 145 pounds and dressed in gray coat, hat and suit. No. 2 was 5 feet 4 inches, about 135 pounds and wore dark clothing. The man who sat at the wheel was described as about 35 years old.

Police found finger prints on the door handle of the getaway car. The handle had been wrenched almost off, apparently when the trio stole it. Ownership is being traced.

Marine Hero Wins College Oratory Title

By BERT FORD

In the thronged auditorium of Boston Latin School last night, seven young student orators, chosen from among thousands of contestants in colleges and high schools in 13 major cities throughout the country, competed in the national finals of the 1946 Hearst Newspapers National Oratorical Contest: "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States."

The winners: Robert Finch, 20, of Woodrow ave., Los Angeles, representing the college group, a student at Occidental College, Los Angeles, who served overseas as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

William G. Ehler, 18, of North Sacramento ave., Chicago, representing the high school group; a student at De La Salle Academy, Chicago.

So close was the contest, and of such high standard was the oratory, that the five distinguished judges conferred for almost half an hour before deciding the champions. Both winners will receive an award of a $1000 Victory Bond and are entitled to a trip, with all expenses paid, from Boston to New Orleans, with stopovers in the communities where Andrew Jackson won fame and honor as a great general and a great President.

For young Finch, the winner in the college division, it was an occasion for special rejoicing. He is a bridegroom of three months, and his attractive young bride accompanied him here from Los Angeles, and shared in his triumph.

Attending as honorary national chairman of the finals was Mrs. Beatrice Ayer Patton, of Hamilton, widow of Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the victorious Third Army during the war in Europe.

And 'o the memory of Gen. Patton, a dramatic and touching tribute was paid. On the stage of the auditorium, a photograph of the great soldier was displayed and Mrs. Patton made a brief and moving address to the audience.

As a prelude to Mrs. Patton's address, and while General Patton's photograph was displayed, Ranny Weeks, who served as master of ceremonies, read a poem written by the heroic soldier on Nov. 11, 1918. The poem was a tribute to a friend who gave his life for his country in battle during World War I, and it describes how General Patton himself felt about war and the supreme sacrifice of life.

The poem follows:

The war is over and we pass
To pleasure after pain,
Except those few who ne'er shall see
Their native land again.

To one of these my memory turns,
Noblest of the slain,
To Captain English of the tanks
Who never will return.

Yet should some future war exact
Of me the final debt,
Any hundred men would be to tread
The path which he has set.

For faithful unto God and man
And to his duty true,
He died to his terrible
In the hearts of those he knew.

Death found in him no faltering,
But faithful to the last,
He smiled in the face of fate,
And mocked him as he passed.

No, death to him was not defeat,
But victory sublime;
The grave prompted him to be
A hero for all time.

Serving as active chairman of the national finals was Dr. Arthur L. Gould, superintendent of Boston public schools. The five distinguished judges were Prof. Judith B. Williams, chairman of the department of history, Wellesley College; the Rev. Dr. Paul A. McNally, S. J., vice-president of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.; Prof. Wylie Sypher, chairman of the department of English, Simmons College; Rev. Joseph L. Liebman, D. D., Temple Israel, Boston, and Prof.

WILLIAM G. EHLER, CHICAGO Wins High School Contest

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT FINCH, LOS ANGELES College Winner Phones News to Family

Herbert Wells Hill, department of history, Dartmouth College.

The contestants, aside from the two winners, were Joseph Schwartz, 21, of South Kimbickin ave., Milwaukee, a student at Marquette University; William A. Burke, 26, a World War II veteran of Mohan st., Everett, a student at Staley College of the Spoken Word; Miss Ann Horan, 18, of Bertha st., Albany, a student at Catholic Academy; Anthony J. Bivona, 18, of Elizabeth st., New York City, a student at La Salle Academy; and Leonard Grassi, 18, of Franklin ave., Los Angeles, a student at Marshall High School in that city. Gov. Train and his military aide attended the contest and Mayor Curley was represented by William G. O'Hare, secretary of the Overseers of Public Welfare.

During intermissions between orations, a brilliant program of entertainment was furnished, highlighted by the personal appearance of Benny Goodman, famed maestro of swing, now appearing at RKO-Boston Theater. Appearing with Goodman was his talented vocalist, Lisa Morrow, his ace pianist, Mel Powell, and his newly discovered singer, Art Lund.

From the Club Mayfair was Frances Faye, the sensational songstress and swing pianist. There was Joan Hunt, Ruby Newman's song star; Jerry Saunders from the Rio, appearing with Charlie Spivak's band, and the Star Dreamers, a delightful quartette also at the Rio; Lillian Cornell, the singing star at the Copley-Plaza's Oval Room, and Ralph Scott, who directed the orchestra.

Orchestra Mulhall of the Music Box sang the national anthem and there were musical selections by the Suffolk County American Legion Glee Club.

Following the contest, the two winning students were heard on a national broadcast from the Tremont st. studio of WFLZ, Columbia Broadcasting System. The broadcast was arranged by Harold E. Fellows, general manager of the station, and Miss Marie Houlihan, public relations director.

"Phone Phantom" In Toils Once More

John F. Mullen, 51, Spring Garden rd., Dorchester, boy broker of the roaring bucket shop days when he was known as the "phantom of the telephone," is back in the toils again today charged with larceny of several checks from his employer.

Mullen, whose love tangles and run-ins with police lost him a fortune, appeared in the lineup today charged with larceny from Bertram Rich, head of a Washington st. bookkeeping firm by whom he was employed as a solicitor.

"I guess you must have had a million dollars in your day," Lt. James V. Crowley commented in looking over Mullen's record.

"Yes, I guess I had," Mullen said, sadly. He was arrested by Sgt. Patrick J. Flannery and Detective John Connell after Rich had alleged his solicitor had taken checks given to him by new accounts, signed his employer's name and cashed them.

Mullen's troubles with the law go back 19 years to a time when he was a stockbroker. In 1928 he was sent to State Prison following conviction on charges of theft of $13,000 in securities from a Webster woman.

That started his troubles. Shortly after he was indicted for being concerned in an attempt to shake down the owners of a South End hotel and this was followed by charges of larceny entered by a four New Bedford school teachers whose money he had taken to invest.

He was paroled from State Prison in 1938, but two years later he was arrested again, this time charged with larceny of $700 and a diamond ring from a 70-year-old blind woman of Wells, Me., who had befriended him. His parole was revoked and he was returned to prison to finish his term.

These Days

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THIS IS the ninth month since V-J Day and the world is still technically at war. The United States is still, by law, at war, although I notice that theaters are in a hurry to abolish the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," as though the national anthem was a horror like most war duties.

No formula yet presented by statesmen at their numerous conferences has produced even a nominal peace.

The fighting has stopped as during an armistice but the issues for renewed fighting hang over the world like an ever-darkening cloud.

The two principal war-originating areas, Manchuria and the Middle East, are still centers of disturbance.

It is not surprising that when the Palestinian Arabs express opposition to the Anglo-American committee's report, they threaten to go over to the Russians.

In Japan, a plot, financed by 140,000 yen, to kill MacArthur, is disclosed.

Trieste, which nearly wrecked the Treaty of Paris at the end of World War I, is still a rock upon which the peace of the world may split.

Secretary Byrnes proposes that Germany be occupied for a quarter of a century, which will not happen, no matter what documents are signed.

Multipartite occupation can only lead to war and eventual conquest by one party.

UN started its career with the members of the Security Council divided into pro-American and pro-Russian groups, recognizing a basic antagonism.

Russian planes fire on American planes over Austria. And so it goes.

THE REAL TROUBLE arises out of a faulty technique in liquidating a fruitless war. Instead of a peace conference, an attempt has been made at a short-cut to peace by small and numerous meetings, held in secret, to settle isolated problems.

These conferences started before the United States entered the war and have been continuous since. Moscow, Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, Cairo, Bermuda, Bretton Woods, Dumbarton Oaks, Mexico City, Atlantic City, San Francisco, London, Paris, Chungking and other places have been the scenes of these attempts to deal with details, but nowhere have the nations of the world met to write a substantive treaty to be duly ratified, establishing a peace based upon essential principle.

The result is a pyramid of chaos. Few of the decisions reached are legally binding upon the United States, because few of them are in treaty form ratified by the Senate, as the Constitution provides.

WE RECOGNIZE, for instance, the independence of Latvia and Lithuania, which have been conquered and absorbed by Soviet Russia, but we recognize the dependence of Poland, which has been conquered and absorbed by Soviet Russia.

We recognize Yugoslavia, a Russian puppet, but we refuse to recognize Bulgaria, a Russian puppet.

We accept China as one of the permanent members of the Security Council but treat with a revolutionary army in China which is a fifth column operation of a foreign nation.

We pursue a Draconian occupation of Germany but quarrel with the world for a just occupation of Japan.

We attempt to keep secret the manufacture of the atomic bomb, but refuse to permit the FBI to arrest spies seeking to steal it.

THE BASIC CAUSE for all this confusion is psychological rather than political. Whereas Mr. Churchill was generally willing to permit open discussion of public problems, Roosevelt and Stalin preferred secrecy.

Both distrusted the wisdom and good-will of their own people. For Stalin, this was strictly a private choice. He is the czar of all the Russians and need consult no one.

Mr. Roosevelt, however, was bound by the Constitution which requires that contractual relations between this and any other country are subject to open debate in and ratification by the Senate.

To this day, Americans do not know the nature of Roosevelt's private, personal agreements with Stalin. Legally, this country is not bound by them.

Police Capture Two In Market Theft

Pursued afoot through the market district early today by three policemen who saw them drop their loot in a doorway, two stevedores were captured at Lewis and Fulton sts. and taken into custody on suspicion of breaking and entering.

Sgt. Francis McGeever and two officers cruising in a car spotted the men, who fled when they saw the police approach. The loot included butcher knives, knife sharpeners and cans of food. Police said the break was made at the Ships Supply Store of Walter W. Hodder on Commercial Wharf.

McCormack Bill Boosts Fund for Hub Housing

By FRANK REILLY

Boston American Staff Reporter

WASHINGTON, May 3—Congressman McCormack was assured today by officials of the Federal Public Housing Administration they would recommend to President Truman an additional $2,113,000 be allocated to the Boston Housing Authority for the Cathedral and South Boston projects.

Now You Tell One

CORNING, N. Y., May 3 (AP)

—Frederick L. Raymond and E. C. Cook, engineer and fireman, returned from a Pennsylvania freight run with this tale:

A hawk flew alongside their locomotive carrying in its claws a squirming rattlesnake nearly five feet long. A blast of the whistle frightened the hawk. The snake fell into the tender and was killed by the train crew.

CURLEY MAY SKIP PARLEY

Scheduled to appear today at a legislative hearing in support of Gov. Tobin's proposal to wipe out the state tax on cities and towns of the Commonwealth, Mayor Curley was reported confined to bed with a severe cold.

However, additional legislation must be passed in order for FPHA to give the Boston Housing Authority funds in excess of $5000 per four-room family unit, McCormack and the housing officials discovered after two days of study.

As a result McCormack is drafting a special bill, to be filed next week, which will amend the present housing act and permit an increase in the statutory limit on housing from $5000 to $6000 per four-room family unit.

Technical details of the measure are being worked out and McCormack intends to exert the utmost pressure to obtain its speedy passage.

He explained the measure was being filed so that if there was any delay in the Wagner-Taft-Elender bill, which covers all phases of housing, the plans of Boston and other cities in the nation for housing projects would not suffer unduly.

"I feel certain such a bill will be acted upon by the Congress with a minimum of delay," McCormack declared.

Later, when the Wagner-Taft-Elender bill, which covers the various phases of housing, is passed, it can supersede this emergency measure.

"It is of vital importance that construction of our two Boston projects gets under way as soon as possible. Both of them are located in the district which I represent and I am thoroughly familiar with the problems of the families who are seeking desperately for housing."

"The technical features of the bill I am drafting are being worked out now and should be completed in the next few days."

The total allocated for the two projects is $8,912,000, of which $3,062,000 is for the Cathedral project and $5,850,000 for South Boston.

If the Boston Housing Authority can keep the total cost per family unit to $7250, the figure representing the cost of land, the cost of construction, architect fees and all other possible incidentals, the FPHA is ready to recommend additional funds for the two projects.

McCormack was promised an additional $1,432,000 would be recommended for the South Boston project to bring the total to $7,282,000, while the Cathedral total would be boosted to $3,743,000 by a recommendation for an additional $681,000.

The recommendations for increases would be to cover increased construction costs and represent the absolute maximum which would be available without making changes in the present Housing Act.

Rajah to Eat American Food

The Maharajah of Indore, who came to Boston for treatment of a lung condition, remained in his quarters at the Copley Plaza today with his American wife, their two-year-old son and his retinue while arrangements were completed for his hospitalization.

Col. George Martiros, his personal physician, said it probably would be several days before any operation was performed. Meanwhile the Maharajah was to visit the hospital for X-rays.

Maj. Harry Nield, secretary said the hotel's offer of a chef to prepare Indian dishes would not be needed.

"We will eat good American food," he said, and this was indicated when the Maharajah, the former Euphemia Stevenson Crane of Los Angeles, ordered from the regular menu.

uncontested decree from Joseph O. Hansen, of Santee, S. C., on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

Another uncontested divorce was granted Elsie M. Horne of Longwood ave., Back Bay, from 2 Lt. Norman P. Horne, now stationed at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., whom she charged with admitting an affair with another woman. Lt. Horne sent a letter to the court saying he was not opposing the divorce.

Lt. Marguerite Johnnene, Army nurse now at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington and a former resident of Washington st., West Roxbury, was given an uncontested divorce from Walter A. Johnnene and the right to resume her maiden name, Peters.

She said she left him in 1942 after numerous arguments over money and that he beat her when she refused to return to him. Mrs. Marguerite L. Pike of School st., Charlestown, was given custody of five children and a divorce from George H. Pike now serving time at Deer Island on a morals charge.

Maine Dad of Cured Vet Gives New Hope to Stricken Boy, 3

A sympathetic Portland, Me., father, grateful because his own boy's life had been saved, today offered hope for 4-year-old Bobby Sherry of Grove st., Taunton, the little lad who doctors say cannot live.

Bobby's plight was told in the Boston Record-American. Today, Charles C. Jensen of Caleb st., Portland, a school custodian, telephoned that his son, Carl, 22-year-old Marine hero of three years in the Pacific, had been cured of Bobby's ailment by special treatment.

The Taunton youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sherry, Jr., is fighting a rare kidney trouble known as polycystic-nephritis. Jensen outlined the treatment today and gave the name of his physician, Dr. Thomas A. Foster of State st., Portland, a child specialist who prescribed treatment for Carl when he was stricken 14 years ago.

"You have made us so happy," Mrs. Sherry said when told of the experience of the Portland well-wisher. "We will tell our doctor about the Portland case. I thank Mr. Jensen from the bottom of my heart. There always seems to be someone who is good when people are in trouble."

Asked Bobby's condition, Mrs. Sherry continued, "He was very weak yesterday, but he seems brighter today and has less fever."

Bobby became ill April 21 and was sent a few days later for examination to Children's Hospital in Boston. Doctors said it was possible he might live only a few weeks and it was also possible, with careful and constant care, he would live for a number of years.

Chances to survive are good if total closing of the kidneys can be prevented.

After this news, Bobby, a happy freckled-faced youngster, was taken back to his home and toys in Taunton.

In his telephone call to these papers, Jensen said:

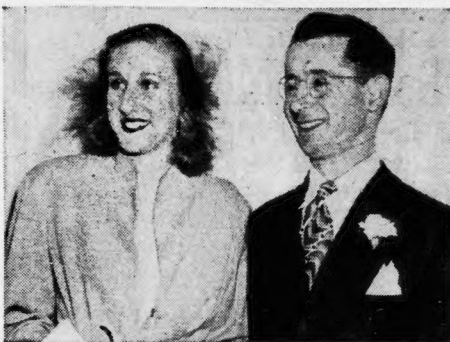

"I couldn't call soon enough. Carl suffered from the same ailment and we feel we have a lifetime debt to pay to others because he was cured."

"The treatment is a severe one, but it worked for us and we have Dr. Foster to thank. He was one of a group of specialists. The treatment involves constant wrapping of the child in steamed blankets, wrung from hot water."

"There are other considerations—no food except sips of orange juice—but all that can be worked out by the child's doctor if he and the family decide to try the treatment."

"My son, who now is home on leave, joins in this hope that Bobby can be made well."

Bobby's dad is a veteran of World War II and now is back at his old job as a pressman for an Attleboro firm.

Court Bars 'Common Scold' As Market District Vendor

Two middle-aged women, sidewalk vendors of shopping bags in the market district, bounced back into municipal court today for a lengthy and noisy session which ended with Judge Elijah Adlow barring one of them from the market area.

Just as last February, when they appeared before Judge Frank W. Tomasello, the complainant was Mrs. Rebecca Green, 65, of Blue Hill ave., Roxbury, and again she charged assault and battery on the part of Mrs. Dorothy Trackman, 55, of Greendale rd., Mattapan.

Both women chattered excitedly and continually, interrupting each other to shout imprecations, and Judge Adlow finally threw up his hands and said:

"What have I done to get this?" He then halted the flow of words and declared neither woman should be working because of their age. Turning to counsel for Mrs. Trackman, he said:

"This defendant is nothing but a common scold. I've been in the market district and have heard her threatening and talking about her influence. I think she should be enjoined as a nuisance."

"But the other woman is to blame, too," the lawyer said.

"Yes, but your client has more volume and range, I've heard her," said the judge. "I'm going to find her guilty and I want her to get out of the market district and stay out."

Her attorney conferred with Mrs. Trackman for several minutes and then asked the judge for time for further conference.

"I'll give you a week but remember I'm finding her guilty," repeated Judge Adlow.

Hunt Hidden Assets In Letendre Probe

WOONSOCKET, R. I., May 3—Officials here and in Florida were searching today for hidden assets of John F. "Big Jack" Letendre, following a court order to produce a detailed inventory of his estate within 30 days.

The order was issued when the will of the slain race track director, gambler and politician, filed for probate, gave an estimated valuation of only $10,000. The will was dated Feb. 8, 1922, at which time Letendre was reputed to be worth millions.

It failed to furnish investigators with any clue as to the possible motive for the slaying, carried out by hired killers at the instigation of gangland overlords. Letendre's wife was named sole beneficiary.

"It is intentional and not by accident or mistake that I omit to provide for any of my children or their issue," Letendre stated in the will.

Judge John R. Higgins informed the probate court that the $10,000 estimate was all that could immediately be found, hence the court's order for an inventory.

Among the sought-for assets are Letendre's stock holdings in the Narragansett racing plant, and other enterprises in this area and Florida in which he was believed to have had controlling interest.

There is not the slightest trace of a huge sum, estimated at $130,000 which he is reported to have brought with him from Florida and which may have been the basis for his unsolved slaying. Letendre is said to have frequently wagered thousands of dollars on the turn of a card.

The will failed to throw any light on his business affairs. A strongbox in a local bank, opened on court order, likewise failed to give any clue to the motive for the slaying.

WILLIAM W. WILSON, 71
Held in Hit-Run Death
INP by Harold Williams

Driver, 71, Denies Hit-Run Death

The case of William W. Wilson, 71, of Columbia rd., South Boston, charged with manslaughter in the hit-and-run death of 3-year-old Carol Carrado before the eyes of her mother near Fields Corner, was continued to May 13 with bail set at $1000 today in Dorchester court.

Wilson, who entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned before Judge William G. Lynch, has persistently denied the accusation. He was arrested several hours after the tragedy on information furnished to police by Thomas Crowley, Franklin, N. H., truck driver, who witnessed the accident.

According to police, Crowley tried to chase the death car, but lost it in traffic. However, he furnished authorities a registration number, which, when traced, led to Wilson's arrest.

Carol was with her mother, who was pushing a younger child in a baby carriage as they started to cross Adams st., near Fields Corner.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...meets all requirements."

Mr. C. A. Rhodes, owner of Lakeside Greyhound Kennel, Route 2, J. J. Joplin, Kansas, says: "I have never had a dog food that starts my puppies on as sturdy growth as Kellogg's two-r-r-r. It meets all requirements in my kennel as a basic food for dogs of all ages."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's two-r-r-r because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's two-r-r-r is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

with marines guarding prisoners not involved in the fight.

Uniformed guards and plainclothesmen rushed to the scene, attacking the building on the rock. The three-story, concrete structure formed a fortress for the convicts, who raked the approaches through windows.

Crouching along a catwalk, guards reached the windows from which the criminals blasted automatic fire. The officers, protected under the wall from the angle of opposing fire, repeatedly shot through the windows.

Searchlights and flares blazed over the island, and heavily-armed boats circled the scene of battle as the fight went into the night. About midnight the guards crashed into cell block C, in which the desperate men were then cornered.

Warden J. A. Johnson termed the taking of hostages a part of a "plot to make a mass escape."

He named the ringleaders in addition to Coy, as:

Joseph Paul Cretzer, 35, serving

25 years for bank robbery and five years for escape from McNeil island prison and life for murder of a U. S. Marshal at Tacoma, where he was on trial for escape from McNeil.

Miran Edgar Thompson, 29, serving 99 years for kidnaping and life for murder of a police officer in Amarillo, Tex., with a record of eight escapes.

Sam Shockley, 36, serving life for kidnaping and bank robbery in Muskogee, Okla., set to Alcatraz from Leavenworth May, 1938.

Marvin Franklin Hubbard, 34, serving 30 years for stolen firearms, kidnaping and transporting a kidnaped person from Chattanooga, Tenn. He had a record of three escapes and participating in a mutiny at Atlanta.

Clarence Carnes, 19, serving 99 years for kidnaping, holdup, murder and escape. Escaped from Granite, Okla., and from U. S. marshal, Oklahoma City.

When the alarm signaled the uprising, other convicts were led into the prison yard, and 30 marines landed to guard them while the prison officers joined the battle against the criminals trying to blast their way to freedom.

The warden named the following rescued guards: Lt. Joseph Simpson, shot several times in the stomach, condition critical; E. R. Baker, serious leg wounds; Capt. Henry H. Weinhold, condition critical, wounds unlisted; Col. D. Corwin, condition critical, wounds unlisted; Joseph Burdette E. B. Lageson, Robert C. Brown and Fred S. Roberts, slight wounds, and Carl W. Sundstrom.

Guards injured in the heat of gunfire included Herold C. Oldham, Elmus Besk, Harry Lochrane, Fred J. Reinberger and Robert Sutter.

Sutcliffe Has Airport 'Barker'

Strife involving methods used by the Sutcliffe limousine service broke out again today at Logan Airport.

Members of the Boston Cab Ass'n complained the Sutcliffe company had put in a starter, who served as a "barker" in soliciting business for the run from the airport to downtown Boston.

Complaints were carried to Joseph F. Cairnes, whom Gov. Tobin has nominated as State commissioner of public works, but he declined to do anything at present.

Drivers of the company had acted similarly some weeks ago when Herman A. MacDonald was still chairman of the public works department. MacDonald warned the company that the procedure was against airport regulations and soliciting business stopped.

Kentucky Moves To Free Boston Cop

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP)—The Kentucky parole board has before it documents in the life imprisonment of a Boston policeman for robbery, for whom Criminal Court Judge Loraine Mix has sought clemency, a state official said today.

Judge Mix said he asked Gov. Simeon Willis a year ago for clemency for Frank Herbert Doherty, 42, convicted in 1942 of robbing a taxi driver of $13 at pistol point.

Pleading drunkenness, the World War I Navy veteran testified he had no recollection of what happened and would rather be electrocuted than admit guilt of a crime he did not remember. The jury found him guilty. Kentucky law made mandatory a death sentence or life imprisonment.

Judge Mix stated he would have fixed the sentence at five years on recommendation of the prosecuting attorney had Doherty pleaded guilty.

"I am firmly of the belief the defendant has had sufficient punishment," the judge wrote a year ago.

He added to the note his opinion the robbery was not in keeping with Doherty's character or background.

Ralph A. Homa, the Governor's executive secretary, said Willis had received no petition for clemency, but that all pertinent documents except personal letters had been turned over to the parole board.

The prisoner's stepmother, Mrs. Harry F. Doherty, has made three personal appeals to Gov. Willis in Doherty's behalf and has asked President Truman to intervene.

Now in Eddyville Penitentiary, Doherty will become eligible for parole early in 1949, but if the war emergency is terminated before then, the Governor's office said, he must serve until May 16, 1951.

Blazing Gasoline Kills 2, Burns 8

WESTPORT, Ct., May 3 (AP)—An explosion which suddenly sprayed flaming liquid on firemen and others as they fought a blaze in an accident-damaged truck left today a toll of two dead and eight severely injured.

Francis P. Dunnigan, 53, a fireman and former chief of the Westport department, was almost instantly killed when the truck, reported by police to have contained nylon yarn and rubber cement, exploded on the Boston Post Road here last night.

John Lowell, the driver, tentatively listed as from Providence,

R. I., died early today in the Norwalk Hospital where eight others were reported in grave condition.

Police Chief John A. Dolan, who witnessed the explosion, said the truck, headed east on the Post Road, swerved into a tree after a front tire blew out. Flames flashed from the gas tank almost immediately, and the driver struggled out and collapsed.

Auto Production Hits New High

Push Probe Of Lynn Girl's Mystery Death

Lynn police today continued their investigation into the death of Virginia Anderson, 25, Concord Way, Portsmouth, N. H., but refused to disclose details. The girl died two weeks after she was admitted to the Lynn Hospital.

Inspectors William J. Murphy and John F. Welch returned to Portsmouth for a second time today to continue their investigation. Police revealed the girl was an expectant mother and that she had fallen down a flight of stairs.

It was also disclosed she had arrived in Lynn, April 16, visited a house in West Lynn, and on the same day was admitted to the Lynn Hospital. On April 19 she fell into a coma and died April 30.

Following her death Associate Medical Examiner Dr. Hugh F. Broderick ordered an autopsy, but no official report has been made.

Women Hit by Fire Fumes

Several women employees were made ill today by fumes from a flash fire which started in a sizing container in the Bensam Hat Co. plant in Chauncey st. just before noon.

One of the affected women, Miss Emily Epps, 50, of Crest ave., Winthrop, was taken to City Hospital, but the others revived after getting fresh air and returned to work.

The fire, which caused little damage, was put out with a hand extinguisher by an employee before fire apparatus arrived.

The ship left San Francisco Jan. 20 and made stops in the Philippines, China, at Singapore, Bombay, Karachi, Port Said and Alexandria.

Among her passengers was Maj.-Gen. Frederick G. L. Wellerman of the Netherlands East Indies army. He was attached to the legation in Washington before returning to the Far East, and today said that he hoped to resign and become an American citizen.

Capt. Marion C. Frye, returning after 18 months with the American Army in the Philippines, was met at the dock by his wife, who drove over the road from Des Moines, Ia., to meet him.

Fund Lack Hits Child Centers

The closing, June 30, of approximately 38 children's recreational projects, established during the war by the Wartime Recreation Committee and financed by the Greater Boston Community Fund, will deprive thousands of Greater Boston children of recreational facilities.

Disclosure that the services would be halted for lack of funds was made by Charles Bolster, member of the WRC, at a meeting sponsored by the Neighborhood Houses and Youth Agencies Division of the Greater Boston Community Council.

Projects scheduled to close are the Greenwood Community Center, Dorchester, operating a full-time program for 1000 boys and girls; Olivia James House Annex, South End; Robert Gould Shaw House Annex, South End; the Jamaica Plain Neighborhood House and the Lincoln House, South End. Sixteen playhouses supervised by Red feather agencies will be without leadership.

Codefendant Slaps Tojo Twice at Tokyo War Trial

TOKYO, May 3 (AP)—Two lusty slaps on the top of Hideki Tojo's glistening bald head by a co-defendant startled the courtroom this afternoon as 28 Japanese heard themselves accused of having plunged the Pacific into a war of greed.

The slaps were only part of the antics of Shumei Okawa, who long advocated an aggressive war to drive the white races from Asia.

The former premier, when slapped looked up quickly from the copy of the indictment he had been studying, then turned and looked at Okawa with a war, understanding smile.

Lt. Col. S. Kenworthy, in charge of guarding the defendants, grabbed Okawa and settled him firmly in his seat.

When court recessed and photographers streamed onto the floor Okawa again resoundingly slapped the glistening head as Tojo busied himself with his papers.

Tojo just grinned. Shouting gibberish, Okawa was pulled from the room ahead of the other 27 defendants. He kicked off his shoes and went barefoot. When he returned after recess, he was wearing a dark overcoat over his military cut grey uniform and was docile.

Opinion was divided as to the reasons for his actions. Some thought he might be trying to impress the court that he was not mentally able to defend himself. However, his slapping of Tojo—who chanced to be seated in front of him—appeared playful rather than in wrath.

Move in Congress For Radio Freedom

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

Special to the Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, May 3—Two moves are being contemplated in Congress to check the dictatorial power of the Federal Communications Commission and preserve for radio the constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech:

1—Conferences were held by Republican members of the House with members of the Interstate Commerce Committee, with a view to obtaining hearings on the pending Wigglesworth bill, specifically denying any power of radio censorship to the commission.

2—Legislative authorities were consulted in the preparation of a resolution proposing an amendment to the U. S. constitution, including radio within the protective clauses of the Bill of Rights.

The extent to which the Roosevelt Administration had blocked all efforts of Congress to curb the communications Commission will be a revelation to the people if the facts can be aired in Congressional hearings.

An effort by Wigglesworth to obtain hearings by the I. C. C. on the bill which he introduced in 1945, was temporarily nullified today by the absence of Chairman Clarence Lea.

On the latter's return Rep. Wigglesworth will ask that hearings be held on his anti-censorship bill, and that certain broadcasters whose freedom of speech on the air has been allegedly curtailed by the FCC or who have been forced off the air, be summoned as witnesses to relate their experiences.

While an effort to obtain remedial legislation is being made, those who are seeking to put an end definitely and finally to any usurpation of censorship power over radio will also use the constitutional amendment procedure.

The last proposed amendment to the Constitution to bring radio under the freedom of speech guarantee was made by Rep. Martin J. Kennedy, of New York.

He introduced a resolution on Sept. 30, 1943, to amend the Constitution by the adoption of the 40,000 Tulips

"Tiptoe through the tulips" will be the theme song for the Public Garden Sunday, when, park authorities expect, more than 100,000 persons will view the 40,000 tulips now in full bloom.

Rivaling the famous display of tulips will be tens of thousands of golden daffodils.

following clause:

"Section 1—Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of speech by radio or wire communication."

"Section 2—The provision of any law, license, or contract in violation of Section 1 hereof are hereby declared inoperative."

No action has been taken on this proposed amendment.

The text of the Kennedy resolution is now being studied, and a similar proposal probably will be offered next week.

Those in Congress most familiar with the old FCC are of the opinion that the Roosevelt administration went to extreme lengths in siding it to obtain dictatorial power over the expression of opinion by radio.

A BOW TO REP. ROGERS

When he entered the fight for Republican nomination for Congress in the fifth district he heard Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers would not run, but when she filed, Woodbury F. Howard, Plan E city councilor and former Mayor of Lowell, withdrew his candidacy today.

62 AWOL Paris GIs Arrested

PARIS, May 3 (INS)—American Military Police announced today they picked up 62 GIs in their city-wide search for AWOL soldiers last night.

Seven hundred MP's, assisted by 200 French police, and employing 30 radio-equipped cars, penetrated virtually every bar, cabaret and subway station.

All American soldiers had to produce identification papers and proof they were legally in Paris. Vehicles were forced to stop for checking at road-blocks on the principal highways leading to the city.

Army officers said four of the soldiers rounded up were definitely established as long-time AWOL cases. The others were being investigated.

Taxation

on payrolls, and a 1 per cent tax on persons who live outside the city but make their living in it," he said. "That would raise $8,000,000 for Boston."

Curley said he wouldn't object to a sales tax if it were statewide, but declared that if one city tried it alone, business would be driven elsewhere.

The mayor attacked the $126,000,000 budget asserting with sarcasm:

"When I was governor in my first year, my budget was 68 million. The next year it was 70 million. Then they elected an honest man, Gov. Saltonstall, and the budget jumped to 80 million. The next year his budget was 95 million. And then another honest man followed, and his budget is $126,000,000."

Curley was interrupted by Rep. Roy Smith, chairman of the House ways and means committee, who said:

"I recall you transferred $9,500,

000 from the highway fund to the general fund when you were governor, yet you still had a state tax of $10,000,000."

"Well, I feel there is a higher order of intelligence here this year," was Curley's reply.

Curley assailed the federal government for failing to consider domestic problems.

"It can loan six billions to Russia, three billions to Britain, and $10 per capita to Italy, but it doesn't consider our own people," he said.

The Mayor termed such tax proposals as levies on juke boxes as "sugar-coated palliatives," and termed the Long bill the "finest and fairest proposition."

Speaking of rising costs of city government, Curley said one Massachusetts community this year faces a 20 increase in its tax rate. The average tax rate increase in Bay State communities will be about $6 this year, Curley predicted.

"And that," he emphasized, "is before the imposition of any State tax levy."

Boston this year must spend $1,000,000 for fire department equipment, $500,000 for public works department trucks and "a lot more than ever" for public welfare, Curley told the legislators.

"The life of a fire truck is 16 years," Curley said, adding, "some of our have to be pushed to fires."

Mayor John D. McCarthy of Malden and Mayor Daniel E. McLean of Beverly were among speakers who said they favored a sales tax to solve the financing problem. City Mgr. John E. Atkinson of Cambridge, who also endorsed the sales tax proposal, suggested that racing taxes could be increased easily in view of the recent sale of a controlling interest in the Suffolk Downs track for $3,600,000. The track now is assessed for $2,000,000, he said.

Atkinson proposed a five-point program as a means of eliminating the state tax. He suggested (1) bonding of $5,000,000 capital improvements in the proposed state budget, (2) doubling of the state franchise tax, (3) permitting cities to tax utilities' bills, (4) postponing some of the highway program until federal aid is definitely assured and (5) "finding ways and means of not spending money."

Harry Kalus, legislative agent for Gov. Tobin, told the committee the budget could be balanced if the Legislature would follow the Tobin proposal to increase excise taxes. He estimated that the increased excise taxes would raise $4,300,000. Kalus criticized the Ways and Means committee for setting up a $5,000,000 reserve in the budget for "capital improvements."

This amount, plus the added excise revenue, would bring in almost the $10,000,000 for which the State tax is proposed, Kalus said.

However, several legislators disclosed the state deficit, to be levied on real estate in the form of a state tax, probably would be nearer $13,000,000 than the estimated $10,000,000.

Questioned by committee spokesmen about Gov. Tobin's attitude toward a sales tax, Kalus replied:

"I would say he is opposed to a sales tax so long as any other method may be used."

Wellesley's 1946 tax rate is $27, a rise of $4.80 over last year, according to an announcement by the Wellesley board of assessors.

Devens Units Seen as Vets' Extension of State College

Gov. Tobin announced today arrangements had been initiated to take over land and buildings at Ft. Devens for establishment of an extension to Massachusetts State College to meet the needs of veterans.

The Governor sent invitations to all college presidents in Massachusetts to attend a conference in the State House May 14, at 2:30 p. m., to consider detailed plans. He disclosed that Col. Crane, commanding officer at Devens, had informed him present plans call for the huge Army reservation to be completely deactivated by June 30.

Col. Crane also furnished the State Department of Education with a list of buildings suitable for use as classrooms or dormitories.

One of the main problems in converting the Devens site into a college extension will be the securing of a qualified administrative staff and faculty, the Governor said, adding he is relying on advice of the college presidents.

"The advice which you may render to me at this time, based on your experience, will be of paramount importance and value," Tobin said in his letter.

Wasn't Fooling

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (AP)

—In a theater workshop auditorium John Didanoff, 24, played a dying soldier's role—and died last night.

Didanoff swallowed a harmless pill, given him by Miss Lois Conklin, playing a nurse, as he occupied a make-believe malaria-infested foxhole.

Didanoff gasped realistically and slumped to the floor.

The play proceeded, the curtain fell and fellow student actors took to Didanoff to get up.

Then they discovered that Didanoff had died of what physicians said was a heart attack.

forced by the strike. Forecast of widespread paralysis within three weeks came from an official interested in this survey but unwilling to be quoted until it is complete.

"Not only will production be down and unemployment up, but public utilities will be affected in many places and lots of plants will be firmly closed," he said. Another reconversion official called this forecast conservative.

The rail service curb order, issued by Col. Monroe Johnson, head of ODT, limits freight shipments to necessities, with priority for livestock, live poultry, perishable items, and these special classes of commodities:

- 1—Coal, coke, charcoal and petroleum products.
- 2—Food and feed.
- 3—Printing paper and printing inks.
- 4—Medicine, drugs, surgical instruments and hospital supplies.
- 5—Shipments moving under special permits.

Freight traffic originating on and destined for points on a railroad not using coal burning locomotives will be allowed, regardless of the character of the shipments.

On the passenger service reduction, the order left it to the individual railroads themselves to work out the 25 per cent cut.

As strike settlement negotiations continued here, O'Neill told newsmen nothing had been discussed thus far this week, but the question of overtime pay arising from four major holidays in the last six months.

The operators asserted John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was demanding this overtime pay issue be settled before talking about a new contract that would end the strike. Lewis absented himself from yesterday's session.

The United Mine Workers Journal estimated the average miner has about $15 to $25 coming if the overtime is adjusted, and totaled the bill at $3,000,000.

The UMW Journal also said editorially the miners were "never more certain and assured of the ultimate success and attainment of wage demands through the organization's years of struggle than as of today."

The Journal asserted further regardless of "what is said to the contrary, the United Mine Workers will not execute any agreement based solely upon the consideration of hours and wages."

This apparently meant Lewis would continue his major fight for a miners' health and welfare fund and improved safety measures.

Public transportation here was paralyzed early today when motormen, conductors, bus drivers ward he said he was powerless to prevent the strike, but hoped to "make it as short as possible."

The union is demanding $1.35
an hour for a 40-hour week, against the present scale of $1.03 and 41 hours.

Wait Bradley Report On Disabled Vet Pay

By DAN MARKEL

Boston Evening American, Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Gen. Bradley, veterans' administrator, was asked by the Senate finance committee for a complete report in connection with the Knowland-Wiley bill to restore full pensions to disabled veterans now existing in veterans' hospitals on only 66— or 26—cents per day.

Sens. Alexander Wiley (R.) of Wisconsin and William F. Knowland (R.) of California, appealed to Bradley to expedite his report, citing the plight of impoverished veterans without dependents whose compensation is slashed when they enter government hospitals. Their letter, in part, follows:

"Dear Gen. Bradley:

"You are so familiar, of course, with the problems of our nation's ex-servicemen, and understand, we are sure, the terrible blow to the morale of these hospitalized veterans who are now receiving the mere pittance of $20 per month in the case of service-connected disabilities, and $8 per month in the case of non-service-connected disabilities.

"In recent weeks the conscience of all America has been rightfully aroused by the expose feature in the Hearst newspapers regarding the dreadful dollar-pinching tactics of our government to hospitalized veterans, making them who can least afford it pay for federal hospitalization or domiciliary care which is supposed to be free.

"We know, too, that you understand that time is fast running out on the 79th Congress.

"We are hoping for your unequivocal indorsement of these twin bills.

"We feel that a congressional compromise on them would be to compromise America's honor and American justice."

Mary Pickford Finds Berlin Ghostlike City

By MARY PICKFORD

Famous Motion Picture Actress and Producer

Written especially for International News Service

BERLIN, May 3 (INS)—The hungry squall of a German baby momentarily drowns out the sound of a chirping robin in the ruins of Berlin today. Here in the warm sunshine of this particular American press sector there is a lovely peaceful garden to look upon.

But this picture gives no hint of the indescribable devastation that lies a few miles away in the city, for the bombing of this residential section was relatively light.

It was May, 1937, when I last saw Germany.

The then prosperous strutting warlike Berlin is a far cry from the ghostlike Berlin of today.

Gone is the beautiful Adlon Hotel. Gone, too, the bombers and the strutting, arrogant Nazis with their threat to world peace. In their place, down long empty streets in Berlin, stalk death, despair and defeat.

The Berlin of 1946 lies like a crushed eggshell, as though it had been stricken by a vengeful cosmic hand.

It is a terrible, desperate sight, a barren graveyard of living and dead, a sight only Dante could adequately describe.

Miles upon miles of gutted buildings remind me of a stupendous abandoned motion picture set.

One Note Enough

HARTFORD, Ct., May 3 (AP)—The only letter his wife wrote to him while he was in the Navy expressed the hope he would be killed in action, Lucian Kohut, New Britain veteran of several major Pacific sea battles, claimed in winning a divorce here.

U. S.-Iceland Stand Puzzles Sweden

STOCKHOLM, May 3 (AP)—The Stockholm Tidningen said editorially today that "American reluctance" to abandon military bases in Iceland "is regarded with growing surprise and irritation in all Nordic countries."

(Dispatches from Moscow said Tech Tass news agency quoted the editorial as saying the Swedish people were asking why the United States did not follow the example set by the Russians in evacuating Bornholm island and leave Iceland.)

Italy Closes

Austrian Frontier

LONDON, May 3 (INS)—Reuters reported from Vienna today Italy has closed the Austrian frontier at the Brenner Pass. Vienna viewed the Rome action as a probable precaution against incidents arising from the Big Four foreign ministers' decision to permit Italy to retain southern Tyrol.

SENATE BILL IS BETTER

ON MONDAY the Massachusetts House of Representatives will resume consideration of legislation for the urgently needed garage under Boston Common, the first of many important public works which can be undertaken by private enterprise in this State.

In all probability, the good and workable bill for the garage which has been recommended by the efficient committee on cities, headed by Senator Ralph Lerche of Northampton, and passed by the Senate will be accepted by the Representatives without alteration.

It is increasingly apparent to all Representatives who believe in promoting prosperity and encouraging private enterprise that the substitute bill for the garage offered by Henry L. Shattuck would defeat the essential project and destroy the people's hopes for an early solution of the traffic problem which has cost the city and State more than $55,000,000 a year in lost business and employment.

The Shattuck amendment is so filled with suspicions and stipulations that one is apt to suspect that it was artfully drafted with the intention of placing the proverbial kiss of death on the garage.

The Senate-approved Bill, on the other hand, is practical and business-like and for that reason, it has the support of the Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor and all persons in both parties who want to have the garage built with a minimum of delay and red tape.

A great many Representatives who were inclined to follow Mr. Shattuck's recommendations have had an opportunity to study them more carefully than they were able to when the recommendations were first presented.

As a result of that study, the Representatives are now convinced that Mr. Shattuck's numerous restraints and prohibitions are not only unnecessary but extremely harmful.

NOT A CURE

THE RECOMMENDATION of the Anglo-American commission of inquiry for admission of 100,000 Jewish refugees to Palestine during the remainder of the current year is a definite and laudable breach in the barrier of doom that has encircled these unfortunate, oppressed and unhappy people.

But it is not to be construed as a CURE for the economic and social plight of European Jews, and even as a PALLIATIVE it is entirely inadequate and pathetically ineffective.

It is a wonderful thing, surely enough, to provide for the salvage of 100,000 human lives.

But let it not be forgotten that this total of lives to be salvaged, if it is accomplished, will constitute but ONE-FIFTEENTH of the total of oppressed and persecuted, destitute and despairing European Jews still remaining within the encircling barrier of doom.

The Anglo-American commission should deal with the WHOLE problem of Jewish affliction, not just a FRACTION of it.

The humane and moral and spiritual obligation of the civilized world is not merely to decide how MANY of these forsaken people are to be saved, but how ALL of them can be saved.

It would take FIFTEEN YEARS to liquidate the Jewish refugee problem of Central Europe according to the formula of the Anglo-American commission—providing all of the refugees could stay ALIVE that long.

But actually and grimly, in the event the civilized world finds no better formula, the mortality rate among them will take far less than fifteen years to solve their problem.

The conscience of the world shrinks from letting that happen, and cries out against it.

The Anglo-American commission should find a CURE for the frightful affliction which a monumental injustice has brought upon the Jews of Europe, not just a PALLIATIVE for it.

A CONTEMPORARY says that "to hear some people talk, you would think half the soldiers in the Army were from Brooklyn." That is a slight exaggeration. Nevertheless, the records reveal that in the recent war, there were more than 300,000 Brooklynites in the armed forces.

PLEASE NOTE: Sir John Lavery said the most characteristic feature of a woman's face is her mouth.

He said a woman could make her eyes behave, but the characteristics revealed by the mouth could not be concealed. Sir John did not go into detail as to his interesting claim. Our Horses & Women experts have been instructed to do some research on it. About all we have in our files at present is that a woman with a large mouth like Martha Raye is usually very loyal and generous.

HAVE-NOTS: When women meet the "haves" they usually start needling the "have nots." Those who have husbands start boasting about their mates to the bachelorettes present. Those who have children start telling cute tales about their kiddies to those who have no children. Those who have mink coats comment on the same to those who have no mink coats, and consider what happens when a girl gets an engagement ring? She rushes around and around, triumphantly displaying it to girls who have no engagement rings. At times the "have nots" among the females go to desperate lengths to join the "haves." For instance, some who lack husbands become so annoyed by the condescending attitude of their married women friends that they will accept the first proposal they get completely disregarding love, economic future, etc. This, in fact, is one of the major causes of the currently excessive number of unhappy marriages.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What are the measurements of the celebrated legs of Mlle. Mistinguett, Paris night club queen? A—We haven't the

By E. V. Durling

Information you request in our files, but will try to get it. It should be interesting because the highly symmetrical limbs of Mistinguett have been world famous for over 40 years. Q—Have you a reader in St. Patrick, Neb.? A—What is that, a catch question? There is no such town in Nebraska. The only town in the world named after Ireland's patron saint is St. Patrick, Mo.

UP NORTH: An Elkhorn, Wis., subscriber has an Irish setter who recently had a litter of 16 puppies. Says the dog's master: "Around midnight I heard a squeaking that was ominous. I found the setter under the porch with 15 puppies she had already given birth to. The thermometer was at 20 below zero. The puppies were nearly frozen to death. I took the mother and the 15 pups into the kitchen. There the mother gave birth to three more puppies. All 16 puppies lived."

CAREER WOMAN: "My mother is 51 and looks like my younger sister," writes a Detroit. "On Saturday night at the country club dances the eager wolves rush toward my beautiful mama in eager groups. She hasn't a line in her face. No wrinkles, whatsoever. She is, and has been from the days of her youth, a career woman. She believes her appearance is largely due to the fact that as a business woman she felt compelled to pay constant and careful attention to her looks. Business, she says, has kept her mind active and that, too, she believes has done much for her youthful appearance and vivacity of manner."

PASSING BY: Veronica Dengel, Weight reduction expert, has just written a book "Figure Fitness in 15 Days." A woman following the instructions in that book can take off from 13 to 15 pounds in the period mentioned, and in the right places. Or so Veronica claims.

ASIDES: Note Fred Allen is quoted as saying: "Money isn't everything but it quiets the nerves."

Sean O'Casey originated this observation, having made it many years ago. According to a Seacaucus, N. J., subscriber, plans are being made for the construction of a race track near his town. If and when this track is constructed, it will be possible to reach it in less than 10 minutes from Broadway and 42d st., Manhattan.

FAIR ENOUGH

CHARGES OF fraud in the acquisition of valuable radio apparatus by the Alamo Broadcasting Corp. of San Antonio, the chief property of the network organized by Elliott Roosevelt, will be investigated by the Federal Communications Commission.

These allegations were contained in a petition filed with the commission last Dec. 15 by Norman Baker of Laredo, Tex., who claims to be able to cure some types of cancer and who has had a long Westbrook Pegler series of troubles with the FCC and the Department of Justice, including a prison term of four years and a fine of $4000 on a charge of using the mails to defraud patients at a hospital which he formerly operated at Eureka Springs, Ark.

BAKER CLAIMS that while he is in Leavenworth prison, and unable to protect his interests, representatives of the Alamo Broadcasting Co. obtained an option to buy the equipment from his station XENT in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, "by actions of an employee who called a meeting of the corporation and voted the stock of your petitioner by a false proxy without his knowledge or consent."

Baker was president and general manager of CIA Industrial Universal Mexico which owned XENT.

"This unauthorized action put the Mexican corporation out of the radio business and enabled the Alamo Broadcasting Co. to apply for a better frequency and increased operating power when radio equipment was frozen due to the war," Baker charges.

He then alleges that the Alamo Co. "offered to give and employ a steady position at an attractive salary for closing the transaction." The petition puts the commission itself in the position of defendant, for it says the commission gave Alamo a construction permit "as an unprecedentedly short time and without notice of opportunity for any interested parties to be heard."

FCC's construction permit was issued in November, 1944, and the first complaint from Baker was not received until April, 1945. The FCC's rules provide that such protests must be filed within 20 days, but Charles R. Denny, acting chairman of the FCC has decided to reopen the case and consider the information which Baker claims to possess.

ACCORDING TO BAKER'S petition, he obtained a decree from the President of Mexico forbidding the exportation of his equipment. Nevertheless, he says, under cover of darkness in April, 1945, four large trucks loaded with his property moved across the border into the United States.

The stock of Elliott Roosevelt's network was represented to be worthless in January, 1942, and on such representations John Harford and David G. Baird of New York were induced not only to settle large loans to Elliott at two cents on the dollar but to surrender to Jesse Jones, then Secretary of Commerce, the stock which they held as collateral.

Jones transmitted the stock to the late President Roosevelt, who held it until Nov. 9, 1943, when he, personally, sent it to Elliott's wife of that time, now Mrs. Ruth Fildson.

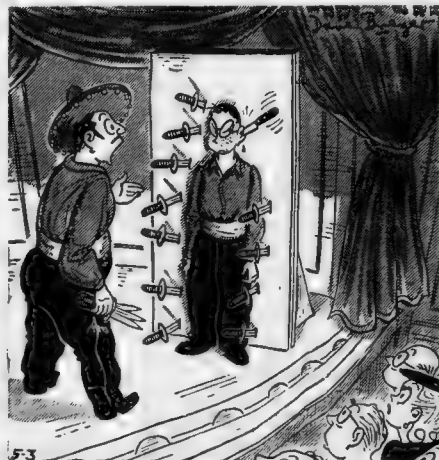

This stock, worthless less than two years before, now was used to defray the continuing responsibility of the President's son in alimony and the support of his children of that marriage.

Five months later, the Alamo station applied for the permit to increase its power and, incidentally, its value as the key property of the network.

WHEN I SAY that the FCC will investigate Baker's charges of fraud, I do not mean to convey the idea that this federal bureau will make a thorough inquiry of its own.

This would seem to mean that Baker will be required to make the real investigation under great handicaps by contrast with the conduct of other government bureaus in calling on the FBI and assigning investigators and lawyers to round up small restaurant owners for overcharging by a few cents and property owners who violate rent ceilings.

The FCC's position is something like that of a passive court here. Yet, if Baker speaks the truth, and he does speak with force and in plain, rough language, a constructive case might be made that property was taken from a helpless and unfortunate citizen to rehabilitate the alimony stock, with the help of one of the most powerful of the New Deal government agencies. The Department of Justice has shown no interest, although federal laws were violated if Baker tells the truth, so grand jury action is unlikely.

HOLLYWOOD, May 3.—The fiery divorce charges by Mrs. Preston Sturges that Preston was "high tempered" around the house, isn't stopping him from keeping his tongue in his cheek where movies stories are concerned. He has just bought another of those satires he does so well, "The Living Strong Box," which also stars Harold Lloyd, hero of his current "Sin of Harold Diddleback."

The story is by Robert Wyler, brother of William, and is a natural for both Lloyd and Sturges. It's about an unimportant little man who works in a jewelry store and is swallowed by accident, an immensely valuable diamond. He then becomes very important because he refuses to submit to an operation—and is trailed for 24 hours by detectives, cops and the distraught owner.

THE SIZZLING RUMOR about "Forever Amber" is that Gene Tierney takes over when the picture resumes shooting this summer. It's only fair to say, again, that anything about this picture is rumor, rumor, rumor. Zanuck is still looking over every foot of film to see what can be salvaged and he's the boss-man to make the official decisions. But Gene is the big whisper to take over Peggy Cummins' role if Zanuck and Bill Perlberg decide on a complete remake.

THERE'S SOMETHING ironic about Sigrid Gurie's being in Norway making movies and very popular, too. Remember, a year ago she was the girl who co-starred with Gary Cooper in "Marco Polo" in a blaze of publicity about being a Norwegian star. It later came out that she was an American, born in Brooklyn—yah, Brooklyn! The phony buildup hurt her career and she didn't get too far after that in Hollywood. But evidently it hasn't hurt her in Norway—or maybe they still think she's a native daughter.

VIRGINIA PATTON'S experience is just another of those Cinderella stories that happen to one out of 5000 girls who come to Hollywood, but which inspire thousands more to keep trying. The former Portland, Ore., model came here without a thought of the money in mind, rated a bit in "Canyon Passage" and then was signed on a stock contract by Frank Capra. Now she gets the important role of Jimmy Stewart's sister-in-law in "It's a Wonderful Life," and her first scenes are dandy. She's tall, blonde and looks like a new star.

VIRGINIA MAYO never forgets a friend, and when she first came here under contract to Sam Goldwyn from the "Diamond Horseshoe," the charm expert who groomed her, dressed her and took her in hand was Eleanor King, pretty stylist of the Los Angeles Examiner. Last Wednesday Eleanor celebrated her eighth year on the paper playing hostess to 2000 interested friends and Virginia was booked to appear as the honor guest. At the last minute it appeared that her heavy shooting schedule on two pictures, "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" and "The Best Years of Our Life," with Danna Andrews, might keep Virginia from appearing, until she put it up to her boss, Sam Goldwyn. So-o-o-o, it cost him several thousand dollars to hold up production. Sam doesn't believe in forgetting old friends, either—and, believe me, that's no joke.

TO ALL YOU swell people who inquire every day about Louella Parsons—I want to say that I went down to the hospital to see her for a few minutes yesterday. She looks wonderful—completely surrounded by flowers, plants, mystery books and a bowl of fish who are "expecting." She is in a very chipper mood and says the stork note about the fish is a "scoop." I also told her about a "fan" letter I received, stating I wasn't worth the powder to blow me up as a columnist and that I had a nerve trying to take over for Louella Parsons. "Oh, I wrote that!" she chuckled.

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Susan Peters drove her specially rigged-up car yesterday for the first time and takes her driver's license exam in a few days; the Literary Guild is sending out the biggest initial shipment in its 19-year history on Taylor Caldwell's "This Side of Innocence" to 21,000 more members than "The King's General" and 117,000 more than "The Black Rose"; Hal Horne and Armand Deutsch are making the movies; Heard the only condition under which Danny Kaye could get out of his radio contract is to agree not to do another regular air show for a solid year. So he's scuttling it out with a show this fall for Vinton Freedley; Liz Scott heads East the end of this month for a New York vacation; Hang on gals—Walter Florell has created a hat of white mink for his Hollywood salon opening and the lid is priced at $500.

MABEL HUTTON, Betty's mother, leaves tomorrow for New York to be with her other daughter, Marion, when the baby arrives in June; Delmer Davis is going around with her right arm in a sling as a result of poison ivy on "The Red House" location. He's directing the picture; Dolores Moran and Ben Bogues together again after a tiff—at Ciro's listening to Joe E. Lewis; Norman MacLean who planned to make his independent movie on salmon fishing, right after he finishes the Danny Kaye picture, can't. The season is on now and he won't be finished until October; in the summer; Grace Allen has a brain "operation" after her "One Finger Concerto." Dave Rose is writing a one violin string concerto for Jack Benny. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Many a day as an old police reporter covering crime and the seamy side of justice I ran into things that staggered the imagination, including the time all the best reportorial minds of the country waited outside the wrong jail in Philadelphia for Al Capone to be released.

I saw gunmen and killers exiled, and ladies who had dispatched their mates made into national heroines. I even attended a trial in Kentucky at which spectators wildly applauded recitals of how the Garr brothers had knocked off Gen. William Denhart, commander of Kentucky's National Guard.

I remember a time when underworld killings were so numerous we held a weekly drawing in our office of the names of mugs who were likely to be bumped off. The fellow whose name was killed first won the pot. To further enhance the pleasantness of the thing, a drawing was advertised on the bulletin board each week under the jovial title: "I'll Be Glad When You're Dead, You Rascal You."

But everything I ever saw or heard in my chronicles of crime pales into insignificance beside a new disclosure which is about to break in connection with the District of Columbia jail.

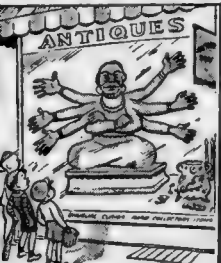

The slayers cut their way through the final barrier with a can opener.

Investigation of this sieve-like prison, where hacksaw blades and ropes often seemed to be standard equipment for prisoners, is about to get under way. Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Tom Clark has appointed J. Ellis Overland, warden of the U. S. penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., to overhaul the place.

But I have just learned—exclusively and on the highest authority—that the investigation will bring out this:

That women of the streets were brought into the death house to see prisoners awaiting execution!

TO TURN to less bizarre matters, Mr. Bill Mason, the rubber man, called me from Akron, O., to say the hotel situation in his town is pretty bad, too.

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.
"Boy! What a first baseman he'd make!"

"The darndest thing just happened," blurted Mr. Mason. "The fellow who owns our Portage hotel lived for years in the Victoria suite in the old Palmer House in Chicago. He was so in love with the suite that he bought all the furniture and furnishings and set up a replica of it in his hotel here."

"This replica is right in the lobby of the Portage and attracts many nightsters. It has signs on the walls to the effect that many of our most illustrious men slept in it."

"The other night a large traveling salesman couldn't get a room, so he sneaked into the lobby exhibit, climbed into the big four-poster and snored away. He wasn't discovered until the next morning."

"But the fellow had on historical turn of mind. Under the sign which says 'President Grant, President Cleveland, President Garfield and Mark Twain Slept Here' he had added in large letters: 'Also Ben-Hur.'"

HERE'S A WONDERFUL opportunity: The Department of Agriculture has just announced the sale of "79 aged ewes."

These venerable ewes are currently located on the Dugway proving ground, 60 miles southwest of Tooele, Utah, and what they have been doing there I do not know. I would hate to think, for instance, of a nice old grandmother ewe being fired from a cannon.

The prospectus says the ewes must be accepted "as is" and no refunds will be made if they are found not to be in good condition. Preference in buying will be given to veterans.

Boston After Dark

EXCLUSIVE: THIS IS the status of William Helis, the millionaire oil operator who the sportswriters call "The Golden Greek," in the Suffolk Downs setup . . . Helis owns as much as 50 per cent of the 50 per cent funny, also . . . What happens thereafter should not happen to Spitz—no less a Ritz . . . Harry takes it . . . He gets crunked with celery stalks and smothered in cream pies piled with the skill and fervor of an early Mack Sennett pie-throwing twirling staff . . . The Ritz boys are better and funnier than ever they've been . . . They are great . . . You should not miss them!

THE EXPLANATION is said to be that Helis, who has all the money he wants, believes that Suffolk Downs, even at the high price its control sold for Wednesday, is an excellent investment . . . Having plenty of "excellent investments" of his own (including a couple of cushy ones and a large piece of the Fair Grounds racetrack in New Orleans), the so-called "Golden Greek" told his associates that they were at liberty to parcel out part of his interest to friends.

AN ALL-BOSTON-OWNED Suffolk Downs might better survive the political assaults which occasionally are launched against a "tolerated" business, the "Golden Greek" believes. Besides, Helis is not greedy, and would like to see something he regards as a "good thing" like a winning racetrack split up among folks who might derive more benefit from the dividends than he—an 86 per cent (high-est) bracket income taxpayer—could possibly enjoy . . . That's the way we hear it . . . We hear also that there will be no stock jockeying of the Suffolk Downs controlling stock despite the participation of J. A. Warner, who is in the stock brokerage business.

TO FINISH FOR THE TIME with the interesting Suffolk Downs auction, it can now be told that a before-sale merger of two unsuccessful groups in the bidding fell through because one of the principals decided at the eleventh hour to play a lone hand . . . (Five or six other mergers, by the way, fell through) . . . The whisper that Helis was out of the Pappas group, of course, was discouraging to the other bidders . . . They realized that the "Golden Greek" was a highroller with an inexhaustible bankroll . . . Even so, had the discussed merger by two important other bidders actually been arranged, the Pappas-Helis group would have had to go considerably beyond $3,600,000 to get the track.

THE FAMOUS RITZ BROTHERS packed the Bradford Road—from sundown to curfew—and panicked the customers with the funniest impersonation repertory seen and heard in Boston since the same trio broke records at the Keith-Easton Theater in 1937 . . . Capacity audiences atop the Bradford forgot postwar cares for the hour while Harry, Al and Jimmy Ritz held the floor with a barrage of banter, buffoonery, acrobatics, slapstick and special material customed to their lovely zany selves . . . The Ritzes took off with a satirical version of "Ochichon-ya" . . . (Stalin would have laughed) . . . Their half-wit fantasy, on Harry Richman in action followed to great applause.

THEIR FAMOUS "Man in the Middle" routine (which had Miami raving) is good . . . But the surprise and highlight of the act is the twist on the criticism everyone has heard that there's a Ritz Brother (Harry) and the Ritz Brothers is a snare and delusion . . . In Harry Ritz is by no means the whole show this time . . . Al and Jimmy manage to slip their beloved brother out of the spotlight long enough to sell themselves as the real funnymen of the trio . . . Then they challenge Harry to prove that he is

NEW YORK, May 3—Bill Davey, ex-husband of Gloria Swanson, is (possibly at the thought of all that alimony . . . Paul Douglas has gifted Virginia Field with a large piece of the gold key set in diamonds and rubies, with his initials engraved on the rod portion. The invalid Mrs. Eddie Foy, Jr., was permitted to see her husband in "The Red Mill" five weeks ago. On her first evening out since then, she went to the Copacabana to see Gloria Froman walk . . . Tip to editors: the conventional daughter of Gert Hans Von Gontard, the Busch heir who figured in one of the war's most publicized draft-dodging cases, has arrived in this country from Germany and is living with him on Central Park South . . . Al Rosen is seeking Gloria Farrell for the lead opposite Edmund Lowe in the new play, "Mary Had a Little."

THE WILLIAM PALEYS, long separated, will make it a friendly divorce before long. Cafe society believes he has his next bride selected . . . Young Gloria Vanderbilt has inspired a jump tune. Dick Wilson of Coq Rouge calls his new "five number" "Mrs. Stokowski Beats the Band" . . . Der Bungle paid $250 for a horse that doesn't even run as fast as his slow ones—a straw horse that turned up at a charity auction and caught the eyes of his four sons.

ART ARTHUR, just out of the Army, will write a movie script for "The Fabulous Doreys," the new U. A. picture about Jimmy and Tommy . . . San Quentin News, one of the more famous of the prison news papers, is cutting out all "cheesecake" art . . . Two items in "Call Me Mister" are worth in the price of admission: the Air Corps satire and Betty Garrett's rendition of "South America, Take It Away!" (You really ought to catch that number twice: once to listen once to look!)

QUICK ONES: President Truman will leave the United States within 60 days for a long-distance trip . . . You'll be surprised how many city New Yorkers are giving cocktail parties to celebrate the arrival of a new telephone . . . The shortest crew haircuts in city society belong to Alexis Thompson, Peter Donald and Lucius Beebe . . . Garry Davis, who understands Ray Bolger in "Three to Make Ready," and Jerry Stearns, who does the same for Lew Parker in "Are Ye With It?" are readying a song and dance act for the borscht and night club circuit.

Judge Ducks Her Parking Problem

Although admitting Mary L. Green of Tremont st., Newton, had a legal right to park her car in the loading zone in front of her Atlantic ave. electrical supply shop, Judge Elijah Adlow told her today she would have to make her peace with the Boston traffic commission before she could continue to park.

"This loading zone is for commercial vehicles and you'll either have to register your car as commercial or not park it there without making proper arrangements with the traffic commission," he said.

He placed two charges of illegal parking on file.

1776 Workout

PHILADELPHIA, May 3 (AP)—Hundreds of persons rushed to Independence Hall after a fire alarm was turned in from Box 1776.

Chief Engineer William Cowden directed firemen of 10 companies, who arched several streams of water over the building. Police roped off an area of several blocks.

Cowden said there wasn't any fire—the Fire Bureau was merely demonstrating its efficiency. The bureau is celebrating its 75th anniversary this week.

Franco Foes to Beg Funds In N. Y. Streets With City OK

By HOWARD RUSHMORE
Special to The Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, May 3.—The New York Dept. of Welfare today was placed in the politically embarrassing position of supporting a group which intends to overthrow by force the government of another nation.

Dept. spokesmen admitted that a license had been issued for a $50,000 street collection drive by the "Action Committee to Free Spain Now," a Red Fascist group headed by a member of the Communist party.

According to the Daily Worker, the goal of this "collection" is: "To raise funds for vital equipment to help Spaniards overthrow Franco."

By "vital equipment" it is assumed that military supplies would be an objective, thus violating federal law, which prohibits its arms or munitions being supplied another government or group in such a manner.

By granting such a license the Dept. of Welfare also approved the committee's statement which said the money would "support propaganda, with the view of breaking relations with Franco."

How a municipal department can ignore the oft-repeated position of the American government on Franco—of non-interference in Spain's internal affairs—was not made clear.

Milton Wolf was named as the person in charge of the drive.

Some words fool you:

PEEP

PEEP

means

but BALLANTINE Ale always means: Purity, Body, Flavor

To peep means to look, on the sly... a peep is a little bird's cry. Confusing, isn't it? Because it has more than one meaning, peep's a word that can fool you.

Ballantine, on the other hand, is a clear-as-crystal word. Never fools anybody! Ballantine always means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR. It's those 3-ring qualities, symbolized by Peter Ballantine's famous trade mark, that make each bottle of Ballantine so outstanding. You do yourself a favor when you call for Ballantine.

Girl Runaway, 18, Given Probation

Mary Rossi, 18-year-old runaway of Fountain ave., Somerville, was given a suspended sentence to Sherborn reformatory today and then told to go home with her mother and stay there. Judge Elijah Adlow granted probation after her mother pleaded she was a good girl and ought to have another chance.

Miss Rossi was picked up yesterday at South Station. She had been gone more than a year, except for a couple of days when she appeared at home for Christmas.

"She had better stay home this time," Judge Adlow said. "If she doesn't we'll put her where she can't run away."

Announcing The FIRST Plan

A NEW, LOW-COST WAY TO BUY YOUR NEXT CAR

HERE'S welcome news for everyone who's planning to buy a new or used car. THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BOSTON announces a new loan service which enables you to finance the purchase of any automobile, through low-cost bank credit. You may choose the Insurance Agent or Company to place your insurance. Under The FIRST Plan you arrange for your loan before you buy your car, so you can go to any dealer and shop for any car just like a cash buyer.

How it Works

1. Go, write or phone to any office of The First National Bank of Boston and ask for a FIRST Plan application — it is simple and brief. You do not have to know in advance the exact price, make of car, or name of dealer from whom you will buy. You simply estimate in your application the maximum amount you will need. You may finance up to two-thirds of the cost of the car you purchase. When completed, mail or deliver the application to any office of the Bank.
2. A PURCHASE LETTER OF CREDIT, for which there is no charge, is mailed to you by the Bank when your application is approved. It certifies to any dealer that you have arranged the necessary credit to finance your purchase.
3. A PURCHASE DRAFT is on the reverse side of your PURCHASE LETTER OF CREDIT. After you have selected your car, you sign the DRAFT and give it to the dealer to pay the net balance due him — just like giving him a check. The dealer simply deposits it in his bank.

Other Advantages

Low Cost—The finance charge is only $4\frac{1}{2}\%$ per annum on the amount paid the dealer and insurance agent or company. Your loan, comprising the amount of your PURCHASE DRAFT paid to the dealer, plus the cost of your insurance and finance charge, is repayable in convenient monthly instalments. You will receive a detailed statement of these amounts after you have purchased your car.

Choice of Insurance Agent or Company—In your application you may name the insurance agent or company you wish to use for your comprehensive fire and theft, and $50 deductible collision insurance. In this way you are enabled to retain or select the services of those who will take an active and personal interest in your insurance needs.

Insurance Financed—The cost of fire, theft and collision insurance is included in the amount of your loan from the Bank.

Life Insurance Protection—Under The FIRST Plan your life will be insured for the amount of and for the purpose of paying the unmatured instalments of your loan. There is no additional charge to you for this valuable protection.

Credit Established—Your credit established with New England's largest bank is a valuable aid for future financial needs.

Canada's Arctic Expedition Nearing

WOULD YOU LIKE SOME

BUTTER

ROAST OF BEEF

Well, here's why OPA ceilings make them hard to get—because OPA "controls" discourage the production of butter. And much of the little produced is being sold in the black market.

✓ "50% of all butter production today is going into the black market and selling for 80 cents or more a pound."

D. K. Howe, President
American Butter Institute, Chicago, Ill.

because OPA "controls" drive meat away from legitimate packers into the black market.

✓ "The plain fact is that OPA meat regulations are driving the honest operators out of business and are turning the business over to crooks and cheats and chiselers."

WESLEY HARDENBERGH, President
American Meat Institute, Chicago, Ill.

It's the same with other things you want: men's suits, underwear, socks • work gloves, refrigerators • vacuum cleaners • washing machines • electric irons • toasters • women's low-priced dresses • moderate and low-priced textiles • lumber and other building materials, furniture.

Production of too many of the things you have been waiting for is held back by OPA.

Instead of the things you want, you are too often forced to buy high-priced merchandise you don't want. And you know what the black market is in your home town.

OPA—with an army of 31,784 employees and $150,171,000 to spend this year—has failed completely to stop the modern bootleggers and racketeers who prey upon us all.

OPA MEANS LOW PRODUCTION

LOW PRODUCTION MEANS BLACK MARKETS

BLACK MARKETS MEAN NEEDLESSLY HIGH PRICES

ISN'T THIS THE ANSWER? Remove price controls on manufactured goods, and production will step up fast. Goods will then pour into the market and, within a reasonable time, prices will adjust themselves naturally and competitively, as they always have, in line with the real worth of things. This is the way you can get the goods you want at prices you can afford to pay. Write your Congressman your views—today!

Claim X-Ray Aids Childless Women

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Use of X-rays to enable some sterile women to have children was described to the Medical Society of the State of New York by Drs. Ira Kaplan and I. C. Rubin.

Dr. Rubin said he expects soon to have a second generation baby to report, a grandchild of a woman whose sterility was relieved by X-rays. There have been no bad effects on any of the women or their children to date, he stated.

End of Trawler Strike at Hand

With officials of the Atlantic Fishermen's Union expressing satisfaction over the offer of boat owners of a 60-40 division of catches, settlement of the costly Boston trawler strike was expected momentarily today.

Secondary issues in the dispute which has kept the fishing fleet idle since Dec. 27 will be settled by tomorrow at the latest, union leaders predicted.

Federal Conciliator William F. Burke, presiding at arbitration meetings at the Old South building, said: "Things are progressing very satisfactorily," and expressed hope the fishing fleet will be operating again soon.

Wallace Budget Cut Threatened

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—An expected brawl over Commerce Department funds threatened today to wreck the brief working partnership between Northern and Southern House Democrats which saved the State Department's cultural relations program.

Leaders of the Southern group which frequently votes with Republicans to upset Administration plans indicated they plan to support Republican amendments which would chop down funds for the Commerce Department's bureau of foreign and domestic commerce and for additional assistants for Wallace.

Repeated attempts to scuttle the cultural relations program came to naught as the Democrats stuck together almost to a man on the project designed to spread abroad a fuller knowledge of life in the United States.

$10,000,000 Loan Granted to Hungary

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A loan of $10,000,000 has been granted to the Hungarian government for the purchase of surplus American property overseas. Foreign Liquidation Commr. Thomas B. McCabe, who announced this today, said the dollar credit, like the $50,000,000 arrangement completed earlier in the week with Poland, is a "credit ceiling" and does not necessarily mean that Hungary will purchase up to the full amount.

Something New in Tinting the Hair

To prove the pliability and unbelievable softness of hair tinted with a new oil-shampoo formula, which is not a dye or a bleach, Michel designed this 1946 version of the upswept hair-do. Deeply waved off the face, the classic twist will fit under your most romantic flower-bedecked bonnet.

By PAULINE WARREN

BEAUTIFUL BLONDE HAIR which shimmers like gold has mesmerized many men, but it also has often proved quite a disillusion when husband or sweetheart tried to touch it. For that incredible color, when attained with dyes, leaves the hair looking bright but as bristly as straw. And no man enjoys hair which feels like a handful of brillo when touching the head of his beloved.

Courteous women have, therefore, retained mousy-colored hair, rather than exchange its natural silkiness for scratchy strands. Particularly women of means and breeding have refused to suffer this horror.

But now, at last, a way of tinting the hair without leaving it stiff has been found. Experts tracked down the cause and found that most of the coarsening is due to the excessive washings needed when dye is applied. These repeated shampoos wash away the natural oils, leaving the hair stiff and dry as a broom.

So they developed a preparation which is not a dye on a bleach. But which cleanses as it tints, making it unnecessary to subject the hair to harsh soap and numerous rinsings. Composed of ingredients which "condition" the hair while it tints, its base is made of beneficial oils which penetrate the hair shaft, improving the texture.

Hair does not feel coarse or look stringy, as it often does after use of dyes. Instead, after a shampoo with this tint, it looks lustrous and is dreamy-soft to the touch.

Even heads that were dyed before will recover with this tint but it takes several treatments. For a head which has never been dyed the results are immediate upon the first tint. The hair left shining soft and its secret is never betrayed. No one could ever guess that the glowing shade is not Nature's own tint.

For the name of this wonderful hair tint, please telephone Beauty Dept. LIBerty 40-60, or write me care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

COUSIN GIVES HER AWAY

My cousin, who is in his late 20's and unmarried, is to give me away at my wedding next month. When he has done this, is he supposed to take his place with my mother in the first pew, or should there be a bridesmaid provided for him to escort in the recessional? P. S.

Your cousin, who is to give you in marriage, does not take part in the recessional. After he has given you away, he should take his place next to your mother in the first pew on the left of the aisle.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

MAKE VISIT SHORT! When you stop to talk to those at another table, make your visit brief. "Table-hopping" is not polite toward the others in your own party and may be an intrusion on those whom you join.

to drive a Harvard or M. I. T. stag line your way. The men may not recognize their ties but, incredible as it seems, it's made entirely of tie silk. Bruno is the bright genius who designed it in brown and white checks—strapless—and with two huge bows in the back and a wide, wide skirt for when the orchestra goes dreamy and gives out with a waltz. The matching fan is for sheer coquetry, 1946 style, or possibly to hide the blushes at the many compliments.

Cranberry Apple Pudding Tops Spring Meals Finish

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

FRUIT PUDDINGS are as colorful and welcome to spring menus as the sight of the first robin in the garden. There's a freshness in the fruit combination that cannot be topped by other desserts—a tartness that is a perfect finish for spring meals.

Cranberry sauce combines well with other fruit. When spooned over apples in the cranberry apple pudding, this dessert can be brought right to the table in its own baking dish. Cranberry apple pudding is a rich dessert; small portions will satisfy, and the dessert will serve 8 to 10 generously.

The same bright red color of the canned cranberry sauce remains after the dessert has been baked and the tart cranberry flavor is a pleasant addition to spring puddings. Here are some pudding recipes for your files:

APPLE PUDDING

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- Grated rind of one lemon
- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 2 small apples
- 1 jar whole cranberry sauce
- Cinnamon
- 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/2 cup finely chopped nut meats

Cream shortening, add sugar and beat thoroughly. Add egg yolks, bread crumbs and lemon rind, and mix well. Add sifted flour, baking powder and salt. Mix well (dough will be very stiff). Spread 3/4 dough in bottom of greased 7 1/2 x 12-inch baking dish. Slice apples very thin and place over dough. Spread drained whole cranberry sauce over sliced apples. Pat out remaining dough over cranberry sauce. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Beat egg whites nearly stiff, add confectioners' sugar, a spoonful at a time; beat until stiff. Fold in 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Spread on cake; sprinkle chopped nuts on top. Bake in slow oven (300 deg. F.) 25 minutes. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

CABINET PUDDING

- 1 1-lb. can jellied cranberry sauce
- 3 egg yolks
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 cups milk
- 1 1/2 tsp. plain unflavored gelatin
- 2 tbsp. cold water
- 3 egg whites
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Cut cranberry sauce into thin slices, 12 in all. With cookie cutter, cut slices into shapes, such as hearts, and allow to drain off excess moisture. Make a custard by mixing egg yolks in top of double boiler with sugar and salt. Add milk gradually, and cook until mixture coats a spoon. Soak gelatin in cold water; dissolve in hot custard. Cool to thicken slightly. Then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and vanilla. Arrange two cranberry shapes in each individual mold. Carefully pour in custard mixture. Chill until firm. Makes 6 servings.

CRANBERRY COBBLER

- 1 1-lb. can jellied cranberry sauce
- 3 tbsp. brown sugar
- 4 tsp. flour
- 3 tbsp. orange juice
- 1/4 tsp. grated orange rind
- 1/2 tsp. mace
- Rich biscuit dough made with 2 cups flour

Crush cranberry sauce and add brown sugar, flour, orange juice and rind, and mace. Blend thoroughly. Pour into the bottom of a well-buttered baking dish and top with biscuit dough. Prick dough in several places with a fork. Bake in moderate-hot oven (400 deg. F.) for 25 minutes. Turn out of pan and serve warm, cranberry side up, with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Friday, May 3, 1946

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—Taurus has plenty of brains, is clever, resourceful. But try not to be controlled by desires and emotions. Slightly to the right of Pleiades is the bright red star Aldebaran, in the Hyades group. This, ancient point out, is the power indicator of the sign Taurus. You are active, receptive, practical-minded. You inspire confidence, make able public servants, financiers. Avoid ill temper. ABOUT TABLE MANNERS

1—When eating a baked banana, should one use a spoon or fork?

2—And how should one eat strawberries when they are served (as I had them recently, for the first time) with hulls attached, piled around a small mound of sugar? L. T.

1—A baked banana is eaten with a fork, as if it were a vegetable.

2—Dip the berries into the sugar, one at a time, holding them by the hull.

Religion Balks Romance

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am in the service, and away from home at the present time. My age is 20, and I am engaged to a fine girl of 18.

Our problem has to do with religious differences on the part of the girl's parents. She has attempted to turn to my religion through her own desire, but her parents refuse her that privilege. Because of this, there has been much trouble between the girl and her parents, so much so that it was necessary to have a doctor for the girl's condition.

Her love for me is great, and she believes that we may lose each other because of her parents' disapproval of my religion. She has shown the desire to leave home and join me to be married, wishing no further contact with her parents. A G. I.

Right here, G. I., you have one of the very thorniest problems a romance can meet up with, and one on which I would advise you and this girl to make up your minds very slowly.

When two young people are very much in love, nothing else seems to matter at the moment, and differences of viewpoint are often swept aside as insignificant; but after a few years of married life they take on a very different aspect. Then trouble an begin.

My advice to you is not to rush into anything, but take plenty of time to think things over. Then if your girl still wishes to turn to your religion and marry you, she is of age and can act as she likes, independent of her parents. But it is always dangerous to interfere with another person's loyalties, whether to family or to religion, and you should be very certain your girl knows what she is doing before she takes any radical step.

Clothes for Tennis Ready

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE time for tennis is just ahead, and designers of our clothes have made ready for it. The well-dressed wielder of a racket has her choice of a lot of different kinds of clothes, which all have one thing in common—they are very short, and they are completely free and easy. Shorts and sleeveless waist or bras are on hand for tennis.

Miss Dulin has sketched one of these for you. It is from Claire McCardell, this one-piece tennis dress, and it is made of white linen. The waist has not a sleeve to its name, and it ends well inside the top of the shoulders, leaving them bare.

Home Garden Forum

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of the Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School.

Q—We have a large forsythia bush that grows well but does not bloom. What can be the trouble?

A—This bush is probably in the wrong location. It is not protected from cold winds and freezing.

Q—What causes our pines to turn brown each spring?

A—The main cause of this trouble is the wind. There is a period each spring when more moisture is lost than can be taken in by the roots, with browning of needles resulting.

Q—When is the best time to move a large evergreen?

A—The best time to move an evergreen is in the early spring. Care must be used not to expose the roots to the air.

Q—Can chives be grown in the flower garden?

A—Yes, Chives will do well, especially in a perennial garden. The small clumps have good green color and when they bloom the blue flowers give color. Set one or two new clumps each year.

Q—Is soil from a cellar good for a garden?

A—Usually soil taken from a cellar excavation is sub-soil that is low in organic matter and bacteria. It may also contain considerable clay. This soil should be improved by heavy applications of manures or other organic material. You cannot expect very good results as it is.

Q—Is straw mulch good around vegetables?

A—Using straw as a mulch is a good practice. It helps to keep down weeds and regulates soil temperature, and saves moisture. One thing to keep in mind, however, is that you should fertilize under the mulch, as the bacteria that break down organic matter use extra nitrogen.

Wed 50 Years, Pair Give Recipe

Selectman Eugene H. King of Enfield, N. H., and his wife, beginning a three-day celebration of their golden wedding anniversary at a Boston hotel, advised that respect for the "dog house," instead of joking about the spouse's displeasure, is a sure way to stay happily married.

"We are as happy today as the day we were married," they told friends, "and that is because we were careful that both of us were never angry at the same time."

"We had our tilts, but they were short-lived because we agreed from the start that we would always get out of the dog house the same day we got in."

Goodman in Sharp Smash In Stage Show at RKO

By PEGGY DOYLE

Big news of Benny Goodman's new stage show at the RKO-Boston is Big Art Lund, a towering, tan-haired and terrific Goodman discovery, who had the girls going into Sinatra swoons even before he sang a note.

On sight, The Lund wins in a landslide from youknowwho. But when, from a slightly off-pitch takeoff, he sortied into "The Talk of the Town," and, much more assuredly, "Blue Skies," "My Blue Heaven" and "Don't Be a Baby, Baby," the orchestra-wise bobby-soxers went mad for his husky, mesmerizing voice.

The new Goodman ace's swinging of both "Blue" numbers hit an all-high in audience approval. Mister Goodman, you really have something there!

He also has something there in Liza Morrow, who as Ruth Morrow was one of Universal Pictures' ablest press agents and junket chaperones. The lissome Miss Morrow, her classy chassis provocatively sheathed in a white dream-gown, had a difficult time getting off-stage. The hubba-hubba reaction elicited by her nice vocalizing of "You Won't Be Satisfied Until You Break My Heart" and "Shoo Fly Pie" was ear-splitting.

Lynn Shirley more than fulfills her programmed description, "a Varga portrait of a girl." She, too, evoked the hubba-hubba stuff with her effortless, stunning teamwork and her wonderfully Varga-like dimensions.

Another gifted specialist in the exceptionally gifted Goodman aggregation is Larry Storch, whose impressions of Cary Grant, Ronald Colman, Humphrey Bogart, Peter Lorre, Barry Fitzgerald, Clark Gable, Edward Everett Horton and Winston Churchill are sharply, brilliantly characteristic.

Mel Powell, whose piano specialty is the only solo orchestra offering, makes hot, fast finger-work of "Avalon." As the piano part of Goodman's incomparable sextet, he is later teamed with Johnny White, vibraphone; Louis Bellson, drums; Mike Bryan, guitar; Barney Spieter, bass, and, of course, the Great Goodman himself on the clarinet.

The sextet does a medley of "After You've Gone" and "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise." The entire band comes in at the end in the closing, "On,

BENNY GOODMAN
RKO Boston

KATHRYN GRAYSON
In "Follies" At Loew's

Baby," with Goodman singing orser chorus.

From start to finale, it was a slick, smart smash, with the audience wanting "more, more."

For film fare this week, there is "A Game of Death," based on Richard Connell's magazine story, "The Most Dangerous Game." It is a story of big game hunting with humans replacing wild animals. John Loder, Audrey Long, Edgar Barrier and Russell Wade are featured.

Injustice Done Beauty in Henry V

At the Esquire Theater, where the production of William Shakespeare's "Henry V" is now in its fifth week, audiences continue to gasp at the final view of the beautiful Renee Asherson (portraying Princess Katherine). In that "close-up" she is anything but beautiful.

Bartolo 2 to 1 Choice to Retain NBA Title Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

SAL BARTOLO, who came up off the streets of East Boston to win the NBA world featherweight championship, will place his $100,000 title on the line when he battles

Sal Bartolo

Jack (Spider) Armstrong of Canada in a 15-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden tonight. The speculative element has installed Bartolo a 10 to 5 favorite despite the recent scare it received when Willie Joyce, on the short end of 10 to 4 betting, had Tippy Larkin on the deck three times and was barely beaten out for the decision.

Bartolo won the NBA title by defeating Phil Terranova in a 15-round tussle at the Garden on March 10, 1944. He was successful in defending it against Terranova in a return bout here on May 5, 1944. On December 15, 1944, the versatile Bartolo turned back Willie Roache in a title tussle over the 15-round route.

Bartolo is 28 years of age and at the peak of his fist ability. He is a perfect, highly polished boxing machine. In addition to speed and rare boxing skill, the East Boston champion is also a clean, hard puncher.

It was as an amateur boxer that Bartolo first attracted the attention of the writer. He entered the All-America tournament conducted by the American Record-Sunday-Advertiser, and won a title. Like all other All-America champions, Bartolo later entered the professional ranks. He was the first All-America titleholder to win a world's professional championship.

It is this writer's opinion that Bartolo packs too much ring class and hitting ability for Armstrong. Any boxer, of course, can get knocked out if hit hard enough and on the right spot. Bartolo was dropped to the canvas for the first time in his professional career by 18-year-old Dennis Patrick Brady. It was a straight right-hand punch to the jaw that tipped Bartolo over. Sal was so confused when he hit the canvas that he gripped one of Brady's legs and held on as a drowning man does to the proverbial straw.

Armstrong does not hit as hard as Brady, and as a result Bartolo will not be in any grave danger of being stopped.

ARMSTRONG was around the fistie wars long before Bartolo entered the ranks of professionals. He is one of the many oldtimers who have come back into the money as a result of the boxing boom. Against inexperienced youngsters like Buddy Hayes and Mickey Harris, Armstrong looked like a world's champion.

Armstrong is a fast, cagey boxer and in his years in the ring he has picked up many a boxing trick. He may even be able to show Bartolo a few new things about boxing science.

When Armstrong battled Hayes and Harris, he was able to set his own pace. He should not be able to do so tonight as Bartolo will try to take command from the opening going.

Veterans like Armstrong look impressive when they have youngsters as opponents, but they do not do so well when opposed by top boxers. Bartolo receives a double A rating, and it is difficult to imagine how Armstrong could defeat him.

Magic Coin Picks Bartolo as Winner

Jack Conway's famous Magic Coin named Sal Bartolo of East Boston to win from Jack (Spider) Armstrong of Canada in their 15-round title bout at the Garden tonight. Earlier in the week the Magic Coin picked Tippy Larkin to win the world's junior welterweight championship from Willie Joyce, which he did.

This writer is picking Bartolo with considerable confidence as our fistie statistician tells me that we have named the winner in 22 out of the last 23 bouts. Incidentally it was Armstrong who upset one of our choices. It was our opinion that the youthful Hayes would win from Armstrong. I do not believe Armstrong will score another surprise victory tonight even though the boxing game is noted for upsets.

THE CHICAGO race track fire claimed the lives of many fine thoroughbreds. The Chicago fire followed shortly the one at Bowie, Maryland.

Every year scores of race horses die in fires. Many of these fires are caused by negligence in the barn areas.

The fire prevention systems at many race tracks are inadequate, and living conditions in the barn areas of some tracks are as poor as they were 50 years ago. Improper living conditions pave the way for much of the trouble that occurs in the barn areas of race tracks.

Mud for Derby; 17 Enter

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP)—A field of 17 three-year-olds, headed by sleek, sturdy Lord Boswell, was entered today for tomorrow's 72nd running of the Kentucky Derby, as continued rain threatened muddy going for the horses and a damp afternoon for the expected crowd of 100,000.

Lord Boswell was top man in the three-horse entry of Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's Maine Chance Farm—the first three-horse Derby entry in a decade—and as rain fell on picturesque Churchill Downs for the fifth straight day Maine Chance was regarded as the team to beat for the pot of $96,400 to the winner, if all 17 go to the post.

The West held its biggest hand in years in this wide open Derby, with only six of the 17 horses hailing from the East. Three were the New York cosmetics Queen's team of Lord Boswell, Knockdown and Perfect Bahram.

And Lord B. is to be piloted by the ace of the jockeys, astute Eddie Arcaro, who is seeking his fourth win for a new high in Derby doings.

Against this, the West's best were Charles T. Fisher's spy song, from Detroit; William Helis' Rippey, from New Orleans; Robert Kieberg, Jr.'s assault from Texas and Hal Price Headley's Pellicio from deep in the Blue Grass of Lexington, Ky.

With 17 horses in the box when entries closed at 11:30 a. m. (EDT), the draw for post positions gave Lord Boswell the number three spot in the gate, with the outside outsider, Denzil Hollingsworth's Kendor, on the rail and Assault in the number two position.

Most affected by the draw among the leading contenders were the chances of William duPont's Hampden, a speedy horse who drew the number 17 position and will be free of interference in breaking from the complete outside.

Beginning with the No. 4 post position, the draw put the rest of the field in this order: the gate Alworth, in No. 4; Perfect Bahram, 5; Spy Song, 6; Almond, 7; Pellicio, 8; Wee Admiral, the Canadian speedster, 9; With Pleasure, 10; Knockdown, 11; Dark Jungle, 12; Bob Murphy, 13; Rippey, 14; Marine Victory, 15; Jobar, 16, and Hampden, 17.

Fielding's Jobar, one of the extreme outsiders, was the first horse entered today for the Derby. The entry of the chestnut colt from the barn of the Rydell, Pa., sportsman, was filed by telegram by Trainer Don Yates, former Baltimore street-car conductor who turned to racing 15 years ago.

Lightly regarded in this first $100,000 Derby, Jobar had not even been considered a starter until he was shipped in early this week after finishing fourth in the Chesapeake Stakes at Havre de Grace last Saturday.

Second horse in the entry box was that of Rippey, flying winner of the Derby trial mile last Tuesday from the barn of Orleans horseman William Helis. Norman Whitey Price, agent for the stable, announced loudly as he dropped in the entry blank: "I'm entering the winner."

Two veteran trainers, John Partridge and Maxie Hirsch, arrived to enter Alworth and Assault, respectively. Right along with them came Arthur Trent, entering wee Admiral, owned by

Off Track Sure

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3—Rain which began to fall again today made it certain that the Churchill track would be at best "heavy" for the Derby tomorrow.

Canadian automobile executive Robert McLaughlin.

After previously having announced Wee Admiral would be scratched in the event of mud, Trent said he had changed his mind and the son of War Admiral would go to the post "with any kind of a fair track." The change, he said, was dictated because "so many folks from Toronto came down to see him run."

Assault, Texas-bred and Texas-owned Wood Memorial winner from the King ranch of R. J. Kleberg, Jr., has a good chance.

Trainer Leigh Cotton arrived with the entry of Pellicio, owned by Hal Price Headley, tobacco grover-banker from Lexington. Seventh horse entered was Bob Murphy, $2500 yearling buy who won the Arkansas Derby for owner Dave Ferguson, Detroit tool manufacturer.

Marine Victory, who was once sold for $750 on suspicion of having a trick knee and who has won $33,140 up to now for owner Robert Bruce Livie, Baltimore automobile executive, was eighth in the entry box. Trainer Spec Dunne dropped his name in.

Immediately behind him came Jimmy Smith, quiet Californian, with the big six-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's Maine Chance Farm entry of Lord Boswell, Knockdown and Perfect Bahram. His riders, he announced, will be Eddie Arcaro, seeking his fourth Derby victory, on Lord Boswell; Bobby Permaine on Knockdown, and Ted Atkinson aboard Perfect Bahram.

The field reached 12 when Jack Skirvin, a trainer since 1925, put in the name of Almond, owned by Cleveland Accountant Al C. Ernst.

Thirteenth horse entered was With Pleasure, hope of the Brodie Farm of Oscar E. Breault, Chicago bakery executive.

The Delaware hope, William duPont, Jr.'s Hampden, who won the Chesapeake Stakes last Saturday, was 14th in the box. Trainer Dick Handlen reported his swift runner blew out three-eighths of a mile in 37 seconds.

The daily rain began to fall at 9:30 a. m. and the forecast was for an off track for Derbytime—6:15 p. m. (E. D. T.), tomorrow.

Trainer John Goodie dropped in the name of one of the brighter dark horses, Dark Jungle, from the barn of Lucas B. Combs, Lexington breeder. When a sports writer reported he had picked Dark Jungle to finish fourth, Goodie predicted "he'd do better than that." Jockey Andy LoTurco reported Dark Jungle blew out half a mile in :48.3-5 seconds.

Sixteenth in the entry box was speedy Spy Song, from the Dixiana Farm of automobile-builder, Charles T. Fisher, leaving only the complete outsider, Kendor, among the expected starters still to come.

Seventeenth—and last—of the entries was that of Kendor, from the barn of Mrs. Denzil Hollingsworth of Lexington, Ky. Because of his completely disregarded chances there was none of the usual chatter about the old race-track adage of "last in, first home."

Newhouser Says Elbow Chipped

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—Hal Newhouser, ace southpaw of the Tigers, said today that X-rays taken in Boston yesterday disclosed three chips in the elbow of his pitching arm and that the Boston physician recommended a rest cure.

The Tigers arrived for a series with the Yankees.

Newhouser said he would not appear against the Yanks this trip but might "try the arm next Tuesday in Philadelphia. This season he has won three and lost one."

"The doctor told me that if the elbow pains me too much the next time I try it I should have an operation," the hurler added.

Southpaw Diet Troubling Cards

It looked today as if the National League would southpaw the favored St. Louis Cardinals to death in an attempt to keep the Red Birds from wresting the pennant from the Chicago Cubs.

Inability to maintain their .617 seasonal pace against porters cost the Cards the flag last year and it may be the same story this year. In 33 decisions against an orthodox flinger in 1945, St. Louis managed to win 17, just one more game than it lost.

In 14 games this season, opposing managers have thrown eight left-handers against Eddie Dyer's sluggers and have been rewarded with four victories. Altogether the Cards have dropped five games only one to a right-hander.

Only three southpaws, Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer, Pittsburgh's Fritz Ostermuller and Chicago's Bob Chipman, have dropped decisions to the Redbirds, but neither has he been ashamed of his performance. Vander Meer, beaten 4-0, was the hardest hit of the trio.

The latest lefty to haunt the Cards was Dave Koso, New York Giants hopeful, who handcuffed them with four hits yesterday and whipped them, 5-1, to knock St. Louis out of a first place tie with Brooklyn. Other left-handers to beat the Cards this year were Chicago's Johnny Schmitz and Pittsburgh's Ken Heintzelman, who achieved the feat twice. Slated to face St. Louis today was Brooklyn's little left-hander, Vic Lombardi.

The Giants not only handed the Cards their third straight defeat, but had the satisfaction of knocking off an old Nemesis when they drove pitcher Harry Brecheen off the hill with a four-run uprising in the ninth inning which snapped a 1-1 deadlock. Prior to yesterday's contest, Brecheen had beaten the Giants six times without a setback since he entered the league in 1943.

The Dodgers came from behind to shackle the Cubs, 3-2, when Billy Herman, a former Bruin, hit a pinch single in the eighth inning to bat across Pete Reiser and Dixie Walker with the tying and winning runs. Reiser and Walker had opened the fatal road with consecutive singles. Art Herring, 39-year-old relief artist, replaced starter Kirby Higby for the Dodgers in the fifth frame and held the Cubs scoreless the rest of the way to earn his first decision.

The Yankees clung close to the Red Sox' heels by trimming the Cleveland Indians, 8-2, behind the effective nine-hit hurling of Spud Chandler, who became the first big league moundman to register four victories. Teammate Nick Etten also gained a "first" when he clouted the majors' initial grand slam homer to highlight the Yankees' eight-run fourth inning against southpaw Vic Johnson and Tom Ferrick.

Banged around for two straight days by the Philadelphia Athletics, the St. Louis Browns finally came to life with a 16-hit barrage against a trio of Mackmen hurlers to defeat their tormentors, 10-3. Walt Juddich, with four safes including a two-bagger, led the St. Louis assault. The victory moved the Browns into the first division, replacing Cleveland.

Lefty Fritz Ostermuller pitched a steady game against the Philadelphia Phillies while his Pittsburgh Pirate mates took advantage of a big five-run frame to topple the Phils, 8-3. It was the Phils' 10th loss in 13 games.

Baseball Guild Outlines Plans

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Robert Murphy of Boston, director of the newly-organized American Baseball Guild, outlined some of the things which the Guild hoped to accomplish.

Among these is the establishment of a minimum salary of $7500 a yr. Baseball men have estimated at the average pay of rookies coming into the big leagues is about $4500 a year.

The minimum wage plank was part of a program which Murphy described. Other points include:

- 1—Fifty cent of purchase price to go player, if he is sold.
- 2—The Guild stands for peaceful settlement of disputes and will definitely sign a contract with no-strike provisions.
- 3—Arbitration: If a player and club owner cannot agree, the matter shall be settled by two representatives of the player and two representatives of the club owner. In a twenty cannot agree, the matter will be settled by a neutral arbitrator.
- 4—Free freedom of contract so that owners will not be able to talk with players on a one-sided basis.
- 5—Provisions for bonuses, insurance and so forth.
- 6—All tiers of the Guild are to be professional players or former players.

Fast Weller Bout on WCOP Tonight

When Roman Alvarez of Manhattan meets Tony Pellone (above), in Gotham tonight, he comes up against a vicious-punching fellow New Yorker who mixes smashing left hooks with ripping right up percuts.

Pellone's speed, power and skill have carried him to victories over Lulu Costantino, Billy Graham, Maxie Shapiro and other leading welters and heavy lightweights.

Facing fast-punching Alvarez is no easy assignment. An all-action fighter who believes in throwing the leather, Alvarez has been displaying corking form. He's especially fond of elaborating his opponents with savage blows inside. His ability in doing so has helped bring him victories over such men as Bobby Ruffin, Joey Peralta and Jimmy Doyle.

Brockton H. Coach Probes for Hurlers

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Brockton High School will be operating on an experimental basis tomorrow as it steps into its second test of the season on its home grounds—entertaining Dorchester High at Eldon Keith Field—with a highly questionable pitching staff due for a workout.

Coach Charlie Holden's Shoe City teams have long been powers in the Eastern Championship races but the twirlers will have to straighten out and fling right if they're to be back in the play-offs this spring.

Brockton pitched its ace, Jack Flanagan, a loose right-hander, to win its opener against North Quincy (10-3) but now, before the season gets too far out of hand, Coach Holden intends to determine his No. 2 and 3 moundmen. Nobody has been nominated for the starting assignment against the intown nine but it will be a toss-up between Ed Pellegrini, Bob Adams, a pair of sophomores, and Sam Doane, a junior.

The final choice will have capable backstopping with a pair of seasoned receivers in the pads. Brockton is well stocked behind the plate with Mario DeMarzo and Tony Costello, recently discharged from the U. S. Navy, ready to take over. Costello was a regular two seasons back before joining the armed forces. DeMarzo inherited the berth last spring.

The infield is fairly well settled. Capt. Lou Goeres will be back at first; Herb Nagle will return to second; sophomore Gerry Belmont has jumped into short and Jim Finnegan has first call at the hot corner. The outfield will pack power at the plate with Dom Bertucci and Ed Pigeon at their usual posts and either Bill Vass or Frank Roberts filling in the outfield.

Following Dorchester, Brockton will be up against New Bedford, May 7; Attleboro, 10; Taunton, 14; Quincy, 17; Weymouth, 20; Attleboro, 22; New Bedford, 23; North Quincy, 29; Quincy, 31; Taunton, June 3, and Weymouth, 5.

Boston schoolboys are getting nothing but the best in training in golf... each school has its own coach and for further instructions on the technical side of the game, the boys move to Franklin Park to work under Walter Phipps, the local pro... he holds classes Mondays and Thursdays with special classes for beginners.

Phipps recently returned from a hitch in the U. S. Army. Big league scouts have been taking a peek at Belmont High School's Les Buckley who has been playing a steady hot corner for Coach Polly Harris' club... Buckley's brother, Reid, a pitcher on the Belmont state championship team, and Mike Palm, another ex-Belmont twirler, are now with Scranton of the Red Sox chain.

PHILLIES SELL MURTAUGH

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP)—The Phillies announced the sale of second baseman Dan Murtaugh, 28, of Chester, Pa., to Rochester, N. Y. of the International League.

Umps Wanted

With five leagues in operation this season, the Boston Park Department is sending out an emergency call for umpires to handle games in their many divisions of play.

Anyone interested should contact Bob Cusick at Arnold 6400 or directly at the Pinebanks Recreation offices.

Happy Urges More Diamonds

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Declaring "wider opportunities to play" baseball would help in combating crime, A. B. "Happy" Chandler, commissioner of baseball, urged last night that "more playing fields" be built for "the youth of America."

"Sports has made a magnificent contribution to America," Chandler declared in an address at a dinner welcoming Schenectady back to organized baseball after 43 years.

"This was proved conclusively by the boys who brought us successfully through the last war. This year we are entering the greatest era in the history of sports and I urge the people to build more playing fields for the youth of America."

"Give the youth of America wider opportunities to play and I know it will prove a big help in combating crime."

Braves Play In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, May 3—Manager Billy Southworth brought his third place Braves here today to open a two-game series with Frankie Frisch's Pirates before heading for St. Louis to meet his former team in three games.

Billy isn't moaning over the fact that his club was trained out three straight days in Cincinnati and hasn't been on a diamond since winning two from the Phillies at Boston last Sunday. He refuses to cry over the temporary loss of these dates in Cincinnati because he believes his team will be stronger later.

He figures that the time gained by not meeting the Reds this week will enable him to perfect a more closely knit ball club for the future. He's counting on Chet Ross, Si Johnson and Larry Powell, the latest additions to his squad, to help in this respect. Then again, Bill Lee and Al Jarvis were sidelined by sore throats during those days but are OK today.

John Sain was his pitcher today with Ed Wright likely to start tomorrow.

The Braves are only a game and a half back of the pace-setting Dodgers and Cardinals, so have good prospects of getting right into the swim for the league lead while on this trip—if they can keep going.

HOW TED DOES IT—The above sequence of pictures shows Ted Williams, Red Sox slugging outfielder, as he clouted a home run off Tommy Bridges, of Detroit Tigers, to win the game in the 10th inning. 1—Gets set with pitch on the way, 2—has just connected, 3—4—5—show his follow through. The ball ended up in the Tigers' bullpen, right centerfield, and the Sox won 5 to 4.

Sox Fans Gone Ducat Mad

By HUCK FINNEGAN

Nylon lines, butter lines, sugar lines. All are long, so the folks say, but the longest line of all is for Red Sox tickets. "Anybody working?" asked Johnny Kieley as he tried to get two for Sunday after Ted Williams' homer beat the Tigers in the 10th, 5-4.

Red Sox, Red Sox, Red Sox... That's all anybody hears these days. They've won seven in a row, are leading the Yankees by a two-game margin, are sitting atop the league. Attendance records are being broken daily. Imagine 21,583 paid for a single game Thursday, to see the Sox sweep the Detroit series. They're up to 215,000 now after two weeks and their season record is 780,000.

"We don't double-deck the stands," said Eddie Collins, "not in my time, at least."

Collins explained that double-decking would not raise the seating capacity more than 15,000. "And the work entailed wouldn't be worth it," he added. There will be lights in 1947, he admitted.

"However, we plan to extend the press box down the right and left field lines so that it will seat some 400 people. We've got to do it for the all-star game (July 9). We'll have a new press room on the roof, too."

Whatever seats the Sox might add will be too few to accommodate the crowds that want to watch them play. They must be all GIs taking their 20 bucks a week. It was explained. "Otherwise they wouldn't be riding Williams with the 'Lt.' or 'Mr.' stuff. They're just looking for fun."

Williams hasn't been taking a riding the last few days. He's sick, and the fans seem to realize it. He's winning everything he's got, but it just didn't seem to be enough. Not until that memorable 10th. Then "Whoosh!"

Tex Hughson had everything under control for seven innings. The Sox enjoyed a 4-0 lead mainly due to Hal Wagner's second inning home run with York and Di Mag aboard. Tex had singled to open the fifth and hurt his right ankle sliding back to first after Metko popped to the pitcher attempting to sacrifice.

"That had nothing to do with it," the non-alibi Hughson explained after being shelled for four hits and four runs in the eighth, enabling the world champs to tie the score. "I just lost my stuff."

Yet Tex, as he was explaining, was on Doc Green's rubbing table with an ice pack on his ankle. It was so swollen he may miss his next turn in the box.

"I stayed in the dugout to watch the finish of the game," said Tex. "I had a hunch somebody would hit one. This club doesn't let me down."

Williams hit one. He was first man up in the 10th. He fouled the first pitch down the first base line. He missed the second one completely. "I've been chasing bad balls all spring," he taunted himself. "I've been getting too many passes."

So with the count 2 strikes and no balls, Tommy Bridges threw Ted what looked like a curve from the press box, what Williams thought was a fast ball, what Bridges claimed was a slider. At any rate, Ted nipped it over the second baseman's head.

"It felt like a double," he said. "I had no idea it would reach the bull pen." Nor did anybody else on the club, except Mgr. Cronin. "That was the way Ruth used to hit them in Washington," he smiled. "What looked like line drives to the pitcher would rise and rise and land in the center-field bleachers."

Williams' hit didn't seem to have any carry. But after it rose over Mayo's head, it started a-kiting and didn't stop until it landed in the Detroit bullpen.

It was an extra-curricular lift for the Sox. They seemed to have faded when Hughson lost his stuff. But now they realized they can let the opposition tie 'em up and still win 'em, they'll be tougher than ever to lick. And who looks tougher in the league?

Press box spotters had Dom DiMaggio on the pan after Higginson singled to center field in the eighth. Dom mishandled the ball, threw to third unavailingly to catch Mayo, letting Higgins reach second with the potential winning run. But he didn't miss Mayo by much, did he? If he had, bingo! That percentage baseball that lost out at a bad moment. Dom had saved trouble twice before with Speaker catches off Greenberg and Wakefield... That was Williams' first homer since he hit one for President Truman on opening day, and, like that opening day, his homer was his only hit of the game. But wait! He gets his strength back. He'll show you some hitting then.

Said Dreisewerd: "If those guys are world champs, I'll win 'em." That settles it. Hughson 20, Ferris 20, Dreisewerd 20, Harris 15, Dobson 30, and how many more do you need? One hundred will win most pennants... Quipped Pellagrini after extending his hitless streak to 17 times at bat, "Postpone that 'day' Eddie Rummel was building up for me"... Frank Shellenback did a fine job switching Detroit hitters in their four-run eighth... Pat Mullin is a batting replica of McCoskey as was McCoskey of Gehrig. The Tigers have much power to get licked often.

Feller Pitches Here Tomorrow

Cleveland made its first appearance of the season at Fenway Park today, and its spearhead was Bob Feller, who on Tuesday pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the Yankees in New York. It was the second no-hitter of Feller career. The other came on opening day of 1940, against the White Sox. Steve Gromek was scheduled to pitch against the Sox' Mickey Harris today but Lou Boudreau said Bob Feller would pitch tomorrow.

Cronin didn't say specifically who would pitch for the Sox tomorrow but since most of Cleveland's power is right-handed (Keltner, Boudreau, Scerry, Hayes & Co.) it is quite likely he'll pass up southpaw Earl Johnson in lieu of Joe Dobson. The latter is the right-hander who pitched a shutout against Detroit's Hal McShouser on Tuesday at Fenway Park. FINNEGAN.

Litani Will Start For St. Lazarus Nine

Pete Litani, ace hurler, has been named by coach Anthony "Blackie" Famulari, as the starting pitcher for the Saint Lazarus Holy Name nine which open the City League, sponsored by the Park Dep't against a strong Cassidy Post team at Marcella street in East Boston, Monday night.

In a pair of other games on the opening program Mission Hill Post AL plays the Colored Giants at the Fens; and Brighton Catholic Institute bumps into the Neponset T. T. at McKenney Playgrounds.
